

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Statistical Abstract of the United States has been published annually for the past , and its present content and form are the result of the work of many persons at period. Revisions are made each year to adapt it to meet current needs and to bring the various statistical series up to date. The present volume has been prepared under the supervision of the Statistical Assistant to the Director by Morris H. Hansen, Statistician, and Kathleen H. Dugan, Editor.

The cooperation of many persons, acting in either their official positions or as individuals, contributed to the preparation of this volume, is gratefully acknowledged. The agencies are credited under each of the tables for which they furnished information. In addition to furnishing information, the Federal agencies listed below contributed to the planning and preparation of the material in excess of routine requirements.

INTRODUCTION

Use of the Statistical Abstract.—The Statistical Abstract of the United States presents in one convenient volume important summary statistics on the industrial, social, political, and economic organization of the United States, and includes a representative selection from most important statistical publications. It is, of necessity, limited to national data or to data nation-wide in scope and does not attempt to present the great wealth of local data available from many sources.

This book is planned as a convenient reference volume for quantitative information and also serves as a guide to the various sources of statistical data. If the information on a particular subject presented in the Statistical Abstract is not sufficiently detailed, it is suggested that the user refer to the publication or to the agency responsible for the data, as indicated in the source note of the table, to obtain further information. The original source from which the table has been taken usually contains more complete discussions of the definitions and concepts used, and presents information for small areas, and often with additional classifications. Occasionally the agency responsible for the data has still more detailed information that can be made available from unpublished records.

The Preparation of this Edition.—This edition has been designated as that of 1944-45 in order to use the year of issue to identify the volume. The edition which will follow this will be designated the Statistical Abstract of the United States: 1946.

Under the emergency conditions which prevailed during the past few years, it has been increasingly difficult to assemble material and have it printed on the rigid time schedule required for the annual preparation of this volume. One of the problems encountered, which affected the timeliness of the data to a considerable extent, was the existence during the war years of regulations designed to withhold information which might be of aid to the enemy. The gradual lifting of wartime security regulations during the past 12 months has made available data previously withheld. To a considerable extent many of these regulations were changed after the tables for this edition were prepared and only a part of the data available at time of issue were included. For example, detailed information on imports and exports for 1942 are shown in the section on Foreign Commerce in this edition, but detailed 1943 and 1944 information has since been made available. The additions which would have been necessary to include the full information for the last two years would have meant considerable further delay in a release of this volume. A similar situation exists in the field of industry statistics, on which many restrictions have also been removed.

Closely related to this problem is the fact that much of the explanatory material, including the general notes, headnotes, and footnotes, was prepared during the time when the availability of information and the revision of surveys to readjust to new conditions, was in a state of flux. It should be kept in mind therefore that the bulk of this book was prepared as of approximately June 1, 1945 and few of the changes made since that time are included.

The Computation of Per Capita Figures.—In selecting and preparing derived figures for inclusion in this volume, another problem peculiar to the present situation has arisen in connection with reducing data to per capita figures. In normal times the total population serves reasonably well for making data comparable, either historically or geographically, on a per capita basis. Changes caused by the inclusion of a large part of the population in the armed services, their presence in areas other than their usual place of residence, and the absence of a large group of men in the armed forces overseas, has resulted in three sets of substantially different population figures from which to choose.

An example of the difficulty of maintaining historical comparability is the matter of birth rates. Crude rates in 1943 might be based on the total population, including armed forces overseas, on the population actually in continental United States excluding armed forces overseas, or on the civilian population. None of these three is fully satisfactory as a base for such rates. The first of these three (the total, including armed forces overseas) is perhaps the most nearly satisfactory base in this instance.

From the geographic viewpoint, the problem is one of taking adequate account of the temporary loss of population in an area to the armed forces and the temporary presence in an area of a large number of servicemen in training.

In the example cited, crude birth rates for States are exaggerated if based on the civilian population but will in some instances be underestimated if based on the actual population in the State, since the latter may contain a large number of servicemen in training. Rates based on the de jure population, that is, the population which "belongs" in the area might be advisable, but in the absence of adequate armed forces statistics by State of residence, such estimates are not feasible.

Each type of rate presents its own problem. Birth rates have been chosen simply as an illustration, but birth rates do not exemplify all the types of difficulties that are to be met. In almost all cases, it is necessary to interpret wartime rates with a great deal of caution. In many cases, it is even necessary to forego the attempt to achieve comparability as between wartime and peacetime rates.

Changes in this Edition.—The presentation of a general note at the beginning of each section in order to furnish a background for the statistics in the field is the principal new feature of this edition. General notes have been prepared for 15 of the 34 sections this year and will be revised and extended in future editions.

This edition includes 1,034 tables, as compared with 1,009 in the last volume. Over 10 percent of the tables are new and another 5 percent have been considerably revised. These changes are spread through 28 of the 34 sections. Special attention has been given to the section on Labor Force, State and Local Governments, Forests, and Manufactures. No new sections have been formed, but a number of improvements are under consideration. The increased availability of data withheld from the general public and the likelihood of changes in statistical reports after the war made it seem advisable to defer major changes until another year.

A list of tables by source is presented on pages VII to X, for the added convenience of users of the Statistical Abstract.

Supplements to the Abstract.—The Cities Supplement to the Statistical Abstract, announced in the last edition, has proved to be very popular. The publication, which brought together 79 items of information from 18 different sources for each city with 25,000 or more inhabitants in 1940, is on sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., for 15 cents.

A second supplement, which brings together selected data from various sources on each county, including summaries for metropolitan areas is now being prepared. Information on the publication date and price will probably be available in the spring of 1946.

A third supplement has been proposed and is now under consideration. This supplement would show data for each year as far back as possible for a large number of time series.

This series of supplements to the Statistical Abstract of the United States has been initiated in response to many requests for the Abstract type of service in more detail than presented in the annual volume. Almost all statistical publications report results from a single survey or discuss a particular topic. The Statistical Abstract, on the other hand, brings together data from various sources on a variety of subjects in order to place in the hands of the user a general reference volume. The series of supplements is designed to carry this purpose beyond the limitations of a single volume. It is still in a formative state, so that criticism and expressions of needs will be welcomed as a means of increasing the value of this service.

Responsibility.—As implied in the title, the contents of this volume are taken from a large number of sources, as indicated in the list of agencies furnishing material on pages VII–X. The Bureau of the Census cannot accept the responsibility for the accuracy or limitations of the data presented here, other than for that which it collects. The responsibility for selection of the material for the general user and for proper presentation does, however, rest with the Bureau even though carried out with the cooperation of many technicians who have given unselfishly of their time and knowledge in order to assist the Bureau's staff in making the presentation as meaningful and useful as possible.

The cooperation of the users must also be acknowledged. Many persons have written offering suggestions for improving the presentation of the material. These letters have been most helpful and users are urged to continue to make their needs known. All suggestions will be carefully considered in planning future editions.

Address requests for additional information to the agency indicated in the source note to the table which covers the desired subject.

1. Area and Population

GENERAL NOTE

This section relates to the population of the United States, its distribution, and its characteristics. The principal source of these data is the Decennial Census of Population, a house-to-house enumeration made once every ten years beginning with 1790. The data shown here were selected chiefly from the Sixteenth Census (1940), and from special census releases and reports, with the object of giving as complete a description of the population of the United States as space permits. Whenever practicable, a historical series is given in order to show changes that have occurred over periods of time. Most of the data presented apply to continental United States, but some figures for Territories and possessions are included.

Related materials are presented in other sections of this volume. Data on families are included in this section, but statistics of marriage and divorce are presented in section 2, Vital Statistics; statistics on family wage or salary income are given in section 13, Income and Expenditures; and Census data on employment and occupations are given in section 5, Labor Force. Data on the population in institutions as enumerated in 1940 are given in this section, but additional data on persons in mental institutions are given in section 2 and on prisoners in section 3, Crime and Criminals. Tables on nativity and citizenship are included in this section, but related data are included in section 4, Immigration, Emigration, and Naturalization.

Population Samples.—The use of sampling methods in the Sixteenth Census permitted the collection of statistics on a larger number of inquiries than has heretofore been possible, the release of preliminary population statistics at an early date, and the tabulation of a great many social and economic characteristics of the population at a relatively low cost.

Certain tables in this section and in the related sections mentioned above are based on tabulations of samples of the population. Several samples were drawn and the figures shown were obtained by multiplying the sample results by a factor dependent on the sample size in each case. Sample B is a sample of all individuals from the 1940 Population Schedule; Sample C and Sample W are samples of individual women 15 years old and over from the 1940 and 1910 Population Schedules, respectively; Sample D, a sample of families from the 1940 Population Schedule; and Sample F, a sample of families based for some subjects on 1940 Population Schedule entries, and for other subjects on 1940 Housing Schedule entries. For Sample B, the sample size is 5 percent. Samples C, D, and F are 5 percent in most areas, but they include $2\frac{1}{2}$ percent samples in the most populous areas. Sample W is an 8 percent sample for the North and the South, and about 12 percent for the West.

Exact agreement is not to be expected among the various samples, nor between them and the complete count, but the sample data may be used with confidence when large numbers are involved, and may be assumed to indicate patterns and relationships where small numbers are involved. Specifically, any number of the size of a million or over may be assumed to agree with a complete count within $1\frac{1}{2}$ percent, though most numbers of this size will agree within $\frac{3}{4}$ of 1 percent. Any number of the size of 100,000 may be assumed to agree with a complete count within 4 percent, though most numbers of this size will agree within 2 percent. Most numbers as small as 10,000 will agree within 10 percent. The sampling errors in subtotals formed by addition of classes are covered by the same statements. More detailed statements regarding the sampling errors are given in the original sources.

Urban and Rural Areas.—In the course of its history the census has employed several definitions of urban population. The current definition was adopted in substantially its present form at the time of the 1910 census and was slightly modified in 1920 and again in 1930. In this edition, the urban-rural classification for all years is in accordance with 1940 definitions.

The urban area is made up for the most part of cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more. In addition, it includes unincorporated political subdivisions with a population of 10,000 or more and a population density of 1,000 or more per square mile; and in the States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire, those towns (townships) which contain a village of 2,500 or more, comprising either by itself or when combined with other villages within the same town, more than 50 percent of the total population of the town.

The remainder of the population is classified as rural and is subdivided into the rural-farm population, which comprises all rural residents living on farms, without regard to occupation, and the rural-nonfarm population, which comprises the remaining rural population.

Families.—The term "family" as defined by the Census since 1930 is limited to private families and excludes the small number (about 80,000 in 1940) of institutions and other quasi households which were included as "families" in 1920 and earlier. A private family comprises a family head and all other persons in the house who are related to the head by blood, marriage, or adoption, and who live together and share common house-keeping arrangements. The term "private household" is used to include the related family members (who constitute the private family) and the lodgers, servants, or hired hands, if any, who regularly live in the home. Thus, the number of private households is, by definition, the same as the number of private families, but the total number of persons in private households includes some individuals who are not members of private families. The term "occupied dwelling unit" is defined as the living quarters occupied by one household.

No. 5.—POPULATION PER SQUARE MILE, BY STATES: 1800 TO 1940

NOTE.—The population of continental United States has been divided by the total land area in order to obtain the density figures here presented. For each State or Territory the population as returned at a given census has been divided by the land area as constituted at the time that census was taken. The 1930 data, however, are based on the revised land areas used for computing the 1940 density figures and, therefore, differ from the 1930 density data previously published. The areas of Indian reservations, outside of Indian Territory, are included in the areas of the several States and Territories, although the population was not ascertained and cannot be considered in figuring density of population prior to 1890.

AREA AND POPULATION

NO. 7.—ESTIMATED POPULATION ON JULY 1, FOR CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES, 1850 TO 1944, FOR HAWAII, 1914 TO 1942, FOR PUERTO RICO, 1914 TO 1944, AND FOR ALASKA AND THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS, 1914 TO 1941

[Estimates, except those for continental United States, 1900 to 1944, and for Hawaii, 1930 to 1942, are based on linear interpolation or extrapolation of census figures. Estimates for continental United States, 1900 to 1910, are the sums of State estimates based on available local data indicative of population change. Estimates for continental United States, 1910 to 1944, and for Hawaii, 1930 to 1942, are based on birth and death statistics and on statistics of civilian emigration and immigration. Figures for continental United States exclude armed forces outside continental United States.]

No. 8.—ESTIMATED POPULATION ON JULY 1, BY STATES: 1931 TO 1943

[Figures for 1931 to 1939 are revised estimates based on 1930 and 1940 census figures, State census figures for States which had State censuses, birth and death data, migration data from the 1940 census, and other available local data, such as school census and school enrollment figures. Estimates for 1940 to 1943 are based on the 1940 census, on registrations for War Ration Books, and on estimated births, deaths, and migration after Apr. 1, 1940. For each year, State figures have been adjusted to add to an independent estimate of population of the United States, based on 1930 and 1940 censuses and on annual data on births, deaths, immigration, and emigration. For enumerated population, 1790 to 1940, see table 6, p. 6.]

No. 21.—MEDIAN AGE OF URBAN AND RURAL POPULATION, BY RACE AND SEX:
1930 AND 1940

[DEFINITION OF MEDIAN.—The median may be defined as that item which is in the middle of a series arranged according to size. Thus, the median age is that age which divides a population group into two equal parts, one half being older, and one half younger, than the median. For definition of urban and rural population, see p. 2.]

No. 24.—ENUMERATED POPULATION, 1940, AND ESTIMATED FUTURE POPULATION, 1945 TO 2000, BY AGE AND SEX

[Estimates in this table are based on the assumption of medium fertility, medium mortality, no immigration, and no war losses, without correction for underenumeration of infants. They are 1 of 12 series of estimates, each based on a set of assumptions with respect to the course of fertility, mortality, and immigration, appearing in the report, Estimates of Future Population of the United States, 1940-2000, by Warren S. Thompson and F. K. Whelpton, of the Scripps Foundation for Population Research.]

No. 35.—FOREIGN-BORN WHITE POPULATION, 1910 to 1940, and TOTAL FOREIGN-BORN, 1900, BY COUNTRY OF BIRTH

[All classifications of 1940 population according to country of birth are based on political boundaries of Jan. 1, 1937. Classification of population at earlier censuses is based for the most part on political boundaries of those years. For most countries of Europe the total foreign-born population given for 1900 is almost entirely white.]

No. 56.—GROSS AND NET REPRODUCTION RATES, BY COLOR, BY REGIONS, URBAN AND RURAL: 1935 TO 1940, 1930 TO 1935, AND 1905 TO 1910

[Statistics for 1935 to 1940 and 1930 to 1935 based on Sample C, and those for 1905 to 1910 based on Sample W; see p. 1. Urban-rural classification is in accordance with 1940 definitions; see p. 2. A net reproduction rate of 1,000 means that each generation would just replace itself, if birth and death rates of specified period were to continue indefinitely, in the absence of net immigration. A rate above 1,000 implies a potentially gaining population, and a rate below 1,000, a potentially declining population. A gross reproduction rate of 1,000 means that if all women born at beginning of generation were to live through their reproductive period and continue birth rates existing at time of their birth, they would barely reproduce themselves, assuming no migration from outside the area. Where gross reproduction rate is less than 1,000, no improvement in mortality alone would prevent potential decline in population. Rates not shown for nonwhite in areas having, in 1940, less than 25,000 nonwhite women 15 to 49 years old]

NO. 57.—INSTITUTIONAL POPULATION 14 YEARS OLD AND OVER—SUMMARY FOR THE UNITED STATES: 1940

NOTE.—Figures cover persons who were reported as inmates of public or private institutions of specified types. Officials and attendants were excluded, as were patients in general hospitals and tuberculous sanitariums. Persons in religious institutions and Veterans' Administration facilities were included only if the establishment had a majority of delinquents, mental patients, aged, or incurables.

2. Vital Statistics (Including health and medical care)

GENERAL NOTE

Births and Deaths.—Births and deaths are registered by the State in which the event occurs, and transcripts of the original certificates are received and tabulated by the Bureau of the Census. Although the system for the collection of death statistics was formed in 1880, it was not until 1900 that mortality data were collected on an annual basis. The Bureau of the Census established a national "registration area" by including in it those States which met certain standards which warranted their inclusion in national tabulations of vital statistics. The original death-registration area consisted of 10 States and the District of Columbia in 1900, and during the period from 1900 to 1933 it gradually expanded until all of the States were included in the United States death-registration area. The national collection of birth statistics was begun in 1915, with 10 States and the District of Columbia, and by 1933 all of the States were included in the United States birth-registration area. The registration of births was estimated to be 92.5 percent complete in the United States in 1940.

Because of the gradual growth of the "registration" systems, the number of births and deaths recorded for the years prior to 1933 are not comparable as to area covered, but in most cases the rates for the birth- and death-registration States may be regarded as good approximations to the national figures.

Beginning with the 1943 edition of the Statistical Abstract of the United States, data for 1940 and subsequent years are shown according to the place of residence¹ of the mother or of the decedent rather than to the place of occurrence of the birth or death. All data for years prior to 1940 are by place of occurrence. Statistics by place of occurrence for the entire United States do not differ from those tabulated by place of residence. However, place-of-occurrence figures for geographic subdivisions are affected by patients' or prospective mothers' going to areas where hospitals and facilities for medical care or childbirth exist. See tables 73 and 78 for comparisons of 1940 data by States, by place of occurrence, and by place of residence; for similar comparisons for 1942 by cities, see table 70.

Death statistics include only deaths occurring in the continental United States, exclusive of deaths of military personnel overseas. Stillbirths are excluded from both birth and death statistics.

Birth and death rates for the years subsequent to 1940 are based upon the estimated de facto midyear populations, that is, the number of persons present in an area at a given time. Because of the unprecedented movement of the population, the changes in the birth and death rates since the war need to be interpreted with care. Part of the increase or decrease in the rates may be accounted for by the changes in the age, race, and sex composition of the area. Of particular significance in this connection are: (1) the withdrawal of a large number of physically fit males of military age from the civilian population, (2) the concentration of such a population in military establishments in certain areas, and (3) the movement overseas of a large number of men in the armed forces. All of these factors make rates for the war years less comparable with those for previous years.

In addition to the birth and death statistics published by the Bureau of the Census, there are reports for the States issued by the individual State bureaus of vital statistics. Ordinarily these publications contain more details relating to the geographic and political subdivisions of the States.

¹ For a discussion of methods of residence reallocation and of significance of residence figures, see Vital Statistics of the United States, 1942, Part II, pp. 1-6, Washington, D. C., 1944.

Marriage and Divorce.—The Bureau of the Census has collected annual statistics on the number of marriages and divorces in the United States for the following years: 1867 to 1906, 1916, 1922 to 1932, and 1937 to 1940. The intervening years have been estimated. The completeness of the collection of statistics on these subjects varies considerably. Statistics for years prior to 1887 covered only about two-thirds of the counties in the United States, whereas those for the years 1922 to 1932 are based on reports for all counties. For the remaining years in which statistics were collected, more than 90 percent of all counties were covered. These statistics are difficult to obtain because, even at the present time, records of marriages are collected centrally in only slightly more than one-half of the States, and records of divorces, in about one-fourth of the States.

In addition to statistics on the number of marriages and divorces, more extensive and detailed information on both marriage and divorce was collected for 1939 and 1940 from those States that have central systems of registration.

Morbidity.—Statistics on morbidity are compiled and published by the U. S. Public Health Service. Each State health officer reports all diseases that are required by law or regulation to be reported in his State. The lists of diseases required to be reported are not the same for each State, although the most common communicable diseases are notifiable in all the States. Tables 88 and 89 show data on these notifiable diseases. Although it is recognized that morbidity reports vary in degree of completeness of reporting of cases, these data indicate a trend by providing a comparison with similar figures for prior time periods.

In addition, data on illnesses are obtained by special surveys. The most comprehensive survey in this field is the National Health Survey made in 1935-6. A number of reports based on this survey have been published by the U. S. Public Health Service and a few by other agencies. Reprint No. 2384 from the Public Health Reports for May 29, 1942, gives a rather complete list of publications based on the National Health Survey.

Medical Care.—Annual statistics of medical care on a Nation-wide basis are limited to data on hospital facilities obtained from the annual census of hospitals and institutions conducted by the American Medical Association. Such censuses include only hospitals, sanatoriums, and related institutions registered by that organization. Therefore, a relatively large number of institutions are not included in the survey. However, practically all of the large institutions in the country are canvassed with the result that most of the hospital bed facilities are usually included. During this period of war, the results of the survey are less complete because figures on recently established Federal hospital facilities are lacking.

An index to one aspect of medical care is also provided by the numbers of births and deaths occurring in hospitals and institutions. These data may be found in the Bureau of the Census publications on vital statistics. Another aspect of medical care is provided by statistics on patients in hospitals for mental disease, and in institutions for mental defectives and epileptics. The Bureau of the Census collects each year data on the admissions, discharges, and deaths in these institutions, as well as those on the characteristics of the patient population.

NO. 70.—BIRTHS AND DEATHS, BY PLACE OF OCCURRENCE AND BY PLACE OF RESIDENCE, FOR EACH CITY OF 100,000 OR MORE IN 1940: 1943

[The first and second columns compare numbers of births occurring in specified cities (regardless of places of residence of mothers) with numbers of births to mothers whose permanent homes were in the specified cities (regardless of places of occurrence of such births). Similarly, the third and fourth columns compare numbers of deaths occurring in specified cities (regardless of places of residence of decedents) with numbers of deaths of residents of the specified cities (regardless of places of occurrence of such deaths). For example: Total number of births occurring in Akron (including births to mothers having their permanent homes elsewhere) was 6,615; whereas total number of births to mothers having their permanent homes in Akron (including births occurring elsewhere) was 5,513.]

3. Crime and Criminals

GENERAL NOTE

Criminal justice is administered in the United States for the most part by State and local officers and agencies. The United States Constitution reserves to the States the general police powers and only offenses against the United States Government or those which involve the crossing of State lines or an interference with interstate commerce can be made Federal offenses by act of Congress. Consequently, unless they occur in Federal territories or reservations, or on the high seas, or are committed by members of the armed forces, the usual criminal offenses such as murder, robbery, burglary, theft, assault, and rape are violations of State laws. There are fifty separate and distinct criminal law jurisdictions in the United States, one in each of the forty-eight States, one in the District of Columbia set up by act of Congress, and the federal jurisdiction. Each of these has its own criminal law and procedure and its own law enforcement agencies. Yet the general system of law enforcement is quite similar from State to State. Of course, there are among the States differences in detail and often substantial differences in the penalties provided for like offenses.

The administration of criminal justice can be divided into three parts. The first covers the activities of the police agencies, namely the investigation of crimes and the apprehension of persons suspected of committing them. This function involves agencies such as municipal police, county police, State police, sheriffs, constables, marshals, federal agents, and many kinds of special officers. The second phase of the administration of criminal justice is the prosecution of those charged with criminal offenses to determine whether they are in fact guilty. The agencies concerned include the courts, justices of the peace, municipal, State and federal grand juries, and prosecuting court officers. The third division of criminal administration is concerned with the punishment or treatment of those convicted of crime. While the courts usually determine the sentence after conviction, the administration of the penalty is carried out by prison, reformatory, jail, probation and parole officials.

Nearly all statistical data on crime and criminals are derived from the records and reports of the various agencies engaged in the administration of criminal law. Police statistics present the number of offenses reported, the number of persons arrested, and the offenses cleared by arrest. They also provide data concerning sex, age, race, and other characteristics of the persons arrested and charged with crime. As the police agencies are largely local, a real problem is involved in collecting statistical data from the large number of such agencies. The Federal Bureau of Investigation obtains reports from police agencies and publishes information for the country as a whole in its semi-annual bulletin, Uniform Crime Reports. The great majority of urban communities are now reporting to the Federal Bureau and the reports received cover more than half of the population of the United States. Information concerning offenses known to the police and the sex and age of persons arrested are shown by offense. Tables 101-103 are taken from Uniform Crime Reports. No centralized information is available on the police activities of the federal agencies. Some information concerning the work of each federal agency will be found in its respective annual report.

Court statistics for the country as a whole showing the number of persons prosecuted for criminal offenses and the outcome of the prosecutions are quite incomplete. In many States, an annual or biennial publication presents data on the criminal cases disposed of in the trial courts. This information may be published by the State Judicial Council or the Attorney General or some other State agency. The only national compilation of such information is made by the Bureau of the Census which annually publishes statistical data on criminal cases disposed of in the general trial courts of twenty-five States including the District of Columbia. (See table 105.) Comprehensive information is collected on the work of the federal courts by the Administrative Office of the United States Courts. Table 104 is prepared from the data published by that office.

Statistics of prisoners committed to penal institutions have been collected and published for a longer period of time than have other criminal statistics. Nearly every State publishes annual data either for the whole prison system or for each separate State institution. A national compilation of data on prisoners in Federal and State prisons and reformatories is made annually by the Bureau of the Census. Statistical information covering persons received and discharged from State prisons and reformatories in forty-six of the forty-eight States and from the District of Columbia and federal prison systems is published annually in a comprehensive report. Tables 108-112 present data from these reports. The Federal Bureau of Prisons, in its annual report, Federal Prisons, provides as complete statistical information on prisoners as has been issued in this country. Tables 106 and 107 are from this source.

Information concerning juvenile delinquents and juvenile delinquency and the operation of many juvenile courts is collected and published by the United States Children's Bureau, Department of Labor.

Information on the prosecution and disposition of persons charged with misdemeanors and other minor offenses in the justice of the peace and municipal courts of the country is not compiled at the present time. Statistical data on such prosecutions may be found for some of the larger cities in the annual reports of the municipal court or of the municipal government. Likewise, there is no general compilation of statistical data on persons confined to county jails and local workhouses. The Bureau of the Census made a survey of jail prisoners for the calendar year 1933 and some information on incarcerated prisoners was published in connection with the 1940 decennial census but there is at present no regular compilation covering this field.

No. 102.—ARRESTS BY AGE GROUPS: 1943

[Data are from arrest records, evidenced by fingerprint cards received at the F. B. I. during year, and are limited to instances of arrests for violations of State laws and municipal ordinances. Fingerprint cards representing arrests for violations of Federal laws or representing commitments to any type of penal institution are excluded. Data do not represent all persons arrested, as fingerprint cards are not forwarded to Washington for every individual taken into custody. Numbers of arrest records in lower age groups are probably incomplete because of practice of some jurisdictions not to fingerprint youthful offenders]

4. Immigration, Emigration, and Citizenship

GENERAL NOTE

Aliens or citizens arriving or departing by vessel or airplane at seaports of the United States are recorded on passenger and crew lists or manifests by officials of the transportation companies, these lists or manifests being delivered to the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice. Persons going by land or air between Mexico or Canada and the United States are required to enter or depart at land border stations where they are registered by officers of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Statistics of immigration and emigration are prepared from these records by the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Immigration.—Although the reporting of alien arrivals was required at an early date in certain of the colonies and original States, the continuous record of immigration to the United States begins with the fiscal year ending September 30, 1820. Under the Act of March 2, 1819, passenger lists for all vessels arriving from foreign places were to be delivered to the local collector of customs, copies transmitted to the Secretary of State, and the information reported to Congress. Immigration statistics were compiled by the Department of State from 1820 to 1874 and by the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department from 1867 to 1895. Since 1892 there has been a separate office or bureau of immigration, now the Immigration and Naturalization Service, which has issued annual reports of immigration to the United States.

Since 1820 the official immigration statistics (see table 113) have changed considerably in completeness and in the basis of reporting. The early figures were for arrivals at Atlantic and Gulf coast seaports of the United States. The first year for which Pacific coast arrivals were reported was 1850. Aliens arriving at Canadian seaports en route to the United States were included after 1893. The reporting of arrivals over the land borders began in 1904 and was gradually extended up to 1908. Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska were treated as integral parts of the United States for purposes of immigration and emigration statistics beginning in 1901, 1902, and 1904 respectively. Travel between the Philippine Islands and the United States was not treated as immigration or emigration between July 1, 1898 and May 1, 1934.

Prior to 1868 arriving alien passengers were recorded, thereafter immigrant arrivals (i. e., omitting aliens coming for temporary stay). Subsequent to the passage of the Act of 1891 which increased the number of excludable classes, the basis of reporting was changed from arrivals to admissions (i. e., omitting aliens not permitted to enter the United States), except for the period 1895 to 1897, inclusive, when the reporting of arrivals was resumed.

Two classes of alien admissions are now reported, immigrant and nonimmigrant (see table 114). Included in the nonimmigrant class are aliens admitted under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (see table 122), returning resident aliens, students, and others. An immigrant alien is defined as an alien, other than a returning resident, admitted for permanent residence, under either quota or nonquota status. Nonquota immigrants admitted comprise immigrants born in Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, and independent countries of Central and South America, and their wives and unmarried children under age 18 if accompanying or following to join such immigrants; relatives of citizens of the United States (wives, husbands, unmarried children under age 21); ministers and professors who enter solely for the purpose of carrying on their vocations, and their wives and unmarried children under age 18, if accompanying or following to join such ministers and professors; and others. Certain temporary admissions such as of persons in possession of border-crossing identification cards are not included either in the immigrant or nonimmigrant totals.

Emigration.—No official record of emigration was kept prior to July 1, 1907. Alien departures are classified as emigrant and nonemigrant (see table 114). For statistical purposes an alien emigrant is an alien resident of the United States departing with the declared intention of residing permanently in a foreign country. The nonemigrant category includes both alien residents of the United States departing for a temporary sojourn abroad, and aliens leaving the United States after a temporary stay.

Naturalization.—Naturalization statistics for the United States began with the fiscal year 1907. Prior to this time each court kept records of naturalizations but no national data were compiled. The Act of June 29, 1906, effective September 27, 1906, provided for periodic returns by all courts conducting naturalization proceedings, and for the filing with a central Federal agency of a duplicate copy of each declaration of intention and petition for naturalization filed, and of each certificate of citizenship issued. Naturalization statistics were originally compiled by the Division of Naturalization of the Department of Commerce and Labor, now by the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Alien registration.—The Act of June 28, 1940, required the registration of all aliens remaining in the United States (including Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands) for a period of thirty days or longer. Aliens resident in the United States on August 27, 1940, were required to register on or before December 26, 1940. Aliens arriving subsequent to August 27, 1940, and not registered by the consul granting visas were required to register within thirty days of arrival. Aliens having their first or second naturalization papers were not exempt from the registration requirement, but those whose petitions for naturalization were pending and who expected to be naturalized prior to December 26, 1940, were instructed not to register. Registration was not required of officials of foreign governments and members of their families. Persons whose citizenship status was not clearly defined were advised to register.

The reported total of alien registrations includes registrations during the period August 27 to December 26, 1940, together with subsequent registrations of aliens who entered the United States prior to January 1, 1941. The total does not include seaman registrations.

No. 118.—IMMIGRATION: 1821 TO 1944

[Data are for fiscal years ended June 30, except as noted; for periods they are totals, not annual averages. From 1820 to 1867 the figures represent alien passengers arriving; for 1868 to 1891 inclusive and 1895 to 1897 inclusive, immigrant alien arrivals; for 1892 to 1894 and for 1898 to the present time, immigrant aliens admitted.]

No. 117.—IMMIGRATION, BY COUNTRY OF ORIGIN, BY DECADES: 1851 TO 1940

[Data are totals, not annual averages, and are for periods ending June 30, except as noted. From 1851 to 1867 the figures represent alien passengers arriving; for 1868 to 1891 inclusive and 1895 to 1897 inclusive, immigrant alien arrivals; for 1892 to 1894 and for 1898 to the present time, immigrant aliens admitted. Data prior to 1906 refer to country whence aliens came; thereafter, country of last permanent residence. Because of boundary changes and changes in the list of countries separately reported, the data for certain countries are not comparable throughout.]

No. 121.—IMMIGRATION QUOTAS ALLOTTED AND QUOTA ALIENS ADMITTED, BY COUNTRY OF BIRTH: YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 1925 TO 1944

NOTE.—The Immigration Act of 1921 limited the number of aliens admitted annually of any nationality subject to the quota law, to 3 percent of the number of foreign-born persons of such nationality resident in continental United States as determined by the census of 1910; the population plan of the act of 1924, to 2 percent according to the census of 1920. The national origins clause of the latter act, which became effective July 1, 1929, provided that the quota of any nationality should be computed by applying to 150,000 the ratio between the calculated number of inhabitants in continental United States in 1920 owing their origin to the nationality concerned and the total inhabitants in the United States of all nationalities subject to the quota law. (For estimates of white population by countries of origin, calculated as a basis for immigration quotas, see table 97, Statistical Abstract, 1932.) Under the act of 1924, the minimum quota is 100. For nonquota classes, see General Note, p. 107.

² Quota 1934 to Feb. 8, 1944. The Act of December 17, 1943, repealing the Chinese Exclusion Laws authorized a quota for Chinese. This quota of 105 was allotted on Feb. 8, 1944, increasing the maximum quota from 153,774 to 153,879. The total quota for 1930 and 1931 was 153,714; for 1932 and 1933, 163,831. The Soviet Union's quota was 2,784 for 1930 and 1931, and 2,701 for 1932 and 1933; Rumania's, 296 prior to 1934. There were also changes in 1932 and 1933 for certain countries included in "Other Europe," Asia, and Pacific Islands.

⁴ All Ireland included with United Kingdom prior to 1925; thereafter, Northern Ireland only.

⁶ Includes quota immigrants born in colonies, dependencies, or protectorates of European countries.

5. Labor Force

(Including employment, hours, and earnings)

GENERAL NOTE

The various series of labor statistics covered in this section may be classified as of one of two types and these types differ somewhat in concept and purpose. One type of labor statistics is obtained by the "population approach," and includes data from the Census of Population and the Monthly Report on the Labor Force of the Bureau of the Census. These surveys involve an enumeration of individual persons and obtain information on employment activity from workers or members of their households. Each employed worker is counted only once, even though he may have held two or more jobs during a given period. The population approach permits a direct enumeration not only of employed persons but also of unemployed workers, the self-employed, domestic servants, service trade workers, and others who are not found on the pay rolls of any establishment.

The second type of labor statistics is obtained by the "establishment approach," and includes data from the monthly series of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture and of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. These data are similar to those provided by the Census of Manufactures and other industrial censuses in that they are based on reports from employers; i. e., farms, businesses, or industrial establishments. In adding together reports of different employers the establishment approach counts twice or more any worker who works for two or more employers during a given pay-roll period, but permits a better analysis of such data as wages, hours, labor turn-over, and industry affiliation which can be more accurately obtained from employers' records than by inquiries directed to a worker or a member of his household. Because the coverage of all employees of an establishment in a single report provides information on a large number of workers in a specific industry, the establishment approach is particularly adapted to the measurement of short-term changes in employment for many important industries. However, the methods usually used in the collection of statistics from establishments do not provide for adequate representation of new establishments coming into business and thus may yield estimates of employment that are subject to a cumulative bias which becomes more serious in the measurement of long term changes. It has been the practice to correct for this bias by periodic adjustment to "benchmark" data from industrial censuses, tabulations of employer reports obtained in connection with Social Security programs, and other sources.

The labor force as now commonly defined in surveys utilizing the population approach includes persons 14 years old and over who had a job or were seeking one during a specified week. (For detailed definitions of various work status classes, see footnotes to table 131.) Population censuses earlier than 1940 used instead a concept of "gainful workers." This differed from the labor force concept in that it included all persons 10 years old and over who reported a gainful occupation, regardless of whether or not they were working or seeking work at the time of the census, and excluded in general new job seekers without previous experience in a gainful occupation.¹ The Decennial Census of Population provides detailed data for the United States as a whole and for each State, city, and other area, including personal characteristics (sex, age, color, etc.) of the labor force, the numbers employed and unemployed, the number reporting themselves in each occupation and in each industry, and other items. The data presented from the Monthly Report on the Labor Force include national totals, by sex and age, of the number of persons in the civilian labor force, the number employed in nonagricultural industry, the number employed in agriculture, the number unemployed, and the number of nonworkers. Data on hours of work are also provided. The report is based on a monthly enumeration of approximately 30,000 households throughout the United States.

The establishment-type series are available for both agricultural and nonagricultural employment. Agricultural employment estimates have been issued since 1909 by the Department of Agriculture. These estimates are obtained by means of monthly mail returns from crop reporters.

The monthly estimates of employment in nonagricultural establishments prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics are based on voluntary reports from about 110,000 establishments in 154 manufacturing industries and in selected nonmanufacturing industries, supplemented by data from other government agencies and adjusted at intervals to data from tabulations of reports under Social Security programs. These estimates exclude proprietors of unincorporated businesses, self-employed persons, domestic servants, and unpaid family workers, most of whom cannot be easily covered by the establishment approach. Persons in the armed forces are also excluded. The estimates are available in considerable detail, especially for manufacturing industries. They are parallel in most instances by estimates of wage-earners separate from salaried employees, and for the former group there are estimates of wages, hours, and weekly and hourly earnings. The industry classifications are generally based on the major prewar activity of each employer, and have not been changed to reflect wartime conversion.

For government and certain other segments of employment, the employment reports of the Bureau of Labor Statistics are supplemented by data from the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Maritime Commission, the Civil Service Commission, the Bureau of the Census, and other agencies.

Labor turn-over estimates are published monthly by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for 76 industries in 20 major divisions in manufacturing, and for selected nonmanufacturing industries, on the basis of voluntary reports from 9,000 firms. There are a number of significant differences between the turn-over data and the Bureau of Labor Statistics employment and pay-roll reports. The turn-over data now relate to all employees whereas the employment and pay-roll estimates for detailed industry groups refer generally to wage earners only. The turn-over series are based on data covering the entire month rather than the pay-roll period ending nearest the middle of the month. Further, in the turn-over series the establishments are now classified according to current industry, while the prewar industrial classification has been maintained in the employment and pay-rolls statistics.

Statistical data on strikes and lockouts cannot be collected in the same fashion as other labor information since strikes and lockouts are sporadic and cannot be covered by a routine periodic reporting service. The basic measures in strike statistics as now compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics are the number of strikes, the number of persons on strike, and the number of man-days of idleness involved. Questionnaires are sent to all parties concerned in each strike (employers, unions, and any interested outside agent, such as a conciliator) to obtain detailed and authentic information. From the data given on the schedules, the Bureau prepares annual reports (published in the May Monthly Labor Review and later in bulletin form) which give not only the complete and verified total figures for each month of the year but also analyses on strikes by industry, State, city, and by causes, results, labor organizations involved, and other pertinent classifications.

³ Includes persons without work of any sort in the week of Mar. 24–30, 1940, who were actively seeking work during that week. This category is composed of both experienced and new workers, the latter being persons who had not previously worked full time for 1 month or more.

No. 132.—ESTIMATED NUMBER OF PERSONS IN THE LABOR FORCE, 1930, AND ADJUSTED NUMBER IN THE LABOR FORCE, 1940, BY EMPLOYMENT STATUS, BY AGE AND SEX

[Figures in thousands. Figures for 1930 in this table are estimates according to the 1940 employment status classification. An allowance was made in each age group for persons whose age was not reported in the 1930 census. Figures for 1940 in this table show revised data adjusted to take account of the misclassification of public emergency workers in the census returns (see note 2, table 131) and of persons whose employment status was not reported in the census. Since the revised and estimated data in this table are not available by occupation, industry, class of worker, race, or other characteristics, for more detailed age groups, or for areas other than the United States as a whole, it is necessary to use unrevised figures for the labor force in 1940 and for gainful workers in 1930 and earlier years, as shown in tables 131, 133-135, 139-146]

NO. 142.—DETAILED OCCUPATION OF PERSONS IN THE EXPERIENCED LABOR FORCE AND OF EMPLOYED PERSONS (EXCEPT ON PUBLIC EMERGENCY WORK), BY SEX: 1940

[Persons in the experienced labor force comprise employed persons (except on public emergency work), persons on public emergency work, and workers seeking work who had formerly worked full time for 1 month or more, see footnotes on table 131. Occupation figures shown below for employed (except on public emergency work) refer to the occupation in which engaged during census week, and are based on complete census returns. Occupation figures for remaining experienced labor force groups, not shown separately in this table, refer to the occupation which the person regarded as his usual occupation and at which he was still physically able to work, and are based on Sample B, see p. 1. Figures for "Experienced labor force", therefore, represent a summation of figures for current and usual occupation based on complete census returns and Sample B, respectively]

No. 145.—DETAILED INDUSTRY OF PERSONS IN THE EXPERIENCED LABOR FORCE, AND OF EMPLOYED PERSONS (EXCEPT ON PUBLIC EMERGENCY WORK), BY SEX: 1940

[Persons in the experienced labor force comprise employed persons (except on public emergency work), persons on public emergency work, and workers seeking work who had formerly worked full time for 1 month or more, see footnotes on table 131. Industry figures shown below for employed (except on public emergency work) refer to the industry in which engaged during census week, and are based on complete census returns. Industry figures for remaining experienced labor force groups, not shown separately in this table, refer to the industry in which the person was engaged when employed at his usual occupation and at which occupation he was still physically able to work, and are based on Sample B, see p. 1. Figures for "Experienced labor force," therefore, represent a summation of figures for current industry and usual industry which in turn are based on complete census returns and Sample B, respectively.]

No. 152.—INDEXES OF WAGE-EARNER EMPLOYMENT AND WAGE-EARNER PAY ROLLS IN MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES, BY MONTHS: 1925 TO 1944

The indexes and estimates for "all manufacturing" and the major groups shown in tables 151, 153-155, have been adjusted to conform to levels indicated by final 1941 and preliminary second quarter 1942 data made available by the Bureau of Employment Security of The Federal Security Agency. The indexes, estimates, and averages presented herein supersede those contained in previous issues of the Statistical Abstract based on 1923-25=100, and are not comparable with data in mimeographed releases for months prior to January 1943 and in issues of the Monthly Labor Review prior to March 1943. Indexes for individual industries have been adjusted to levels indicated by the 1939 Census of Manufactures, but not to Federal Security Agency data]

No. 159.—AVERAGE HOURS AND EARNINGS IN 25 MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES: 1925 TO 1943

[Data cover a representative number of plants which employed 2,760,000 workers during 1943. The earnings are computed by weighting the average earnings in each industry according to the relative importance of the industry as revealed by the Federal Biennial Census of Manufactures for 1923. In addition, each labor group is weighted according to the relative proportion of the group in each industry as revealed in the Conference Board's studies during the 3-year period 1927-29. The pay-roll data are based upon the first full week in each month, or, if a generally recognized holiday falls in that week, upon the succeeding week. Hourly earnings are not wage rates, because they include overtime and other monetary compensation]

HOURLY WAGE RATES

No. 161.—AVERAGE HOURLY WAGE RATES FOR 26 SELECTED OCCUPATIONS IN 26 URBAN AREAS—SPRING-SUMMER 1943

Averages are exclusive of premium pay for overtime and night shift work. They are based on wage studies covering the characteristic industries in each area made by the various regional offices of the Bureau of Labor Statistics to provide information for use by the War Labor Board in wage stabilization proceedings. For most of the occupations, the averages are based on a variety of industrial combinations, partly because of the varying industrial composition of the respective cities, and partly because of the individual requirements of the studies from which data were compiled. In consequence, the averages represent combinations of data for industry branches usually presented separately by BLS, so that the figures are not entirely suitable for collective bargaining or wage stabilization purposes. Although the influence of varying industrial composition has not been eliminated from the figures, the averages are believed dependable to indicate roughly the levels of wages in the localities studied.

No. 163.—SPENDABLE WEEKLY EARNINGS OF FACTORY WORKERS, JANUARY 1941 TO OCTOBER 1944, COMPARED WITH SPENDABLE WEEKLY EARNINGS REQUIRED TO MAINTAIN JANUARY 1941 LIVING STANDARD

[The gross earnings of wage earners in the United States no longer represent their currently spendable income because of widespread sale of war bonds and the extension of personal taxes to the income levels of wage earners. In January 1941, the only nation-wide deductions from gross weekly pay were the social security tax of 1 percent and income taxes, which were applicable to the single wage earners, but not to the wage earner supporting an adult and 2 children. The spendable weekly earnings listed below were obtained for the appropriate industries and time periods by subtracting from the corresponding gross average weekly earnings deductions for taxes and War-bond purchases which were most common at the time. The social security tax of 1 percent remained constant throughout the period, but income and Victory taxes increased greatly. Since War-bond allotments became common during the year 1942, 10 percent of gross earnings was deducted for this purpose in 1943 and 1944. The usual allowances for deductible expenses were made in the process of computing the income taxes—that is, 6 percent for 1941 to 1943, inclusive, and 10 percent for 1944—and all income was considered to be earned for the purposes of determining earned income credit. Annual income was estimated from average weekly earnings as given in table 160, and in current releases, by multiplying by 52. The earnings required to maintain the living level of January 1941 are the product of the spendable earnings in January 1941 and the Bureau of Labor Statistics index of cost of living expressed as a ratio of its value in January 1941.]

NO. 168.—PERCENT OF INCREASE IN URBAN WAGE RATES, BY ECONOMIC REGION: APRIL 1943 TO OCTOBER 1944

[The index of urban wage rates is intended to measure changes in basic rates of pay. It is based on changes in hourly wage rates (average hourly earnings in the case of incentive workers) exclusive of all premium payments for overtime and for work on second or third shifts. The information is collected through semiannual field visits to about 6,600 representative establishments, located in 69 wage areas centering in cities of 25,000 or more population. Data refer to the important manufacturing industries in each area and to a standard group of nonmanufacturing industries in all areas]

No. 170.—INDEXES OF UNION WAGE RATES AND WEEKLY HOURS IN SELECTED TRADES: 1915 TO 1944

[Data for the earlier years cover 39 cities. The coverage was gradually extended until 75 cities were included. Prior to 1938 the figures were based upon the scale prevailing May 15 each year. From 1938 to 1942 the study was made as of June 1, except for building trades rates in 1942, which was made as of July 1. In 1943 and 1944 the data were collected as of July 1 for all trades. The relative wages are percentages which indicate the change in wages per hour. The relative hours are percentages showing the change in the regular full-time hours per week, account not being taken of loss of time from slack work or other causes, nor of overtime work]

No. 171.—MONTHLY LABOR TURNOVER RATES (PER 100 EMPLOYEES) IN MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES: 1939 TO 1944

[Turnover rates are not comparable to the employment and pay-roll data presented in tables 151-155, as the former are based on data for the entire month, while the latter refer only to pay periods ending nearest the middle of the month. In addition, labor turnover data refer to all employees, whereas the employment and pay-roll data relate only to wage earners. Certain seasonal industries, such as canning and preserving, are not covered by the labor turnover survey and the sample is not as extensive as that of the employment survey which includes a larger number of small plants]

² Includes enlisted men's share of family allowances but excludes Government's share. Data are estimated on basis of personnel records.

Source: Data are from reports to Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, except for data for the executive service, which are reported through the Civil Service Commission. Monthly figures are published currently in the Monthly Labor Review.

No. 179.—ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES—STRENGTH OF COMPONENT PARTS:

NOTE.—For period prior to 1914, table covers quinquennial years and years in which considerable changes occurred in Regular Army. Figures for Reserve officers include data for Regular Army enlisted men, and also, for years prior to 1924, for National Guard officers holding commissions in the Reserve. There is, therefore, some duplication in the grand totals, but the amount of this duplication is relatively small.

⁹ Regular Army Reserve, 8,332; Enlisted Reserve Corps, 35,000 (estimated). ¹⁰ Officers' Reserve Corps, 86,262; National Army, 49,118 (estimated).

¹⁴ Enlisted Reserve Corps, 1939, 3,054; 1940, 3,233; Regular Army Reserve, 1939, 19,301; 1940, 25,020. All enlistments in Regular Army Reserve suspended as of Dec. 31, 1940, and members called to active duty on or before Feb. 15, 1941, except those who were deferred until July 1, 1941, in order to complete college or university courses. ¹⁵ Includes 74,602 unassigned selectees.

No. 187.—CIVIL SERVICE AND CANAL ZONE RETIREMENT: 1921 TO 1943

[Retirement for civil-service employees was established by act of May 22, 1920. Under this act and its amendments, employees of the classified service and certain other groups, including unclassified laborers subject to labor regulations, are eligible for retirement on annuity. One of the most important enactments of civil service retirement legislation since the inauguration of the system was the amendatory act of Jan. 24, 1942, Public Law 411, 77th Cong., further amended Mar. 7, 1942. Among the important changes brought about by this law are: Uniform compulsory retirement age of 70 for all employees; optional retirement at age 60 after at least 30 years' service or at age 62 with 15 or more years of service, the option to be exercised by either the employee or the head of the department; a legal right to an annuity at age 55 or 62 depending on the method of separation after service of at least 5 years; and the establishment of a new minimum method to provide annuities that are directly related to salaries and service. The employee contribution rate has been increased from 3¼ to 5 percent of the basic salary. The employee contribution rate was 2¼ percent prior to July 1, 1926, and 3¼ percent from that time until the amendment of Jan. 24, 1942. By act of Mar. 2, 1931 (effective July 1, 1931), special provision was made for employees of the Panama Canal and Panama Canal R. R., who theretofore had been eligible for retirement under the civil-service retirement and disability act.]

No. 198.—UNITED STATES VETERANS RECEIVING HOSPITAL OR DOMICILIARY CARE AUTHORIZED BY VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION: 1928 TO 1944

[During the fiscal year 1944, a total of 746,856 out-patient treatments were given and 1,134,338 out-patient examinations were made. On June 30, 1944, there were 3,929 veterans domiciled in State and Territorial homes who were eligible for care in facilities controlled by the Veterans' Administration. The Federal Government reimbursed these homes at the rate of $120 per year for each person through August 1939, $240 per year for each person through Dec. 17, 1943, and $300 per year thereafter.]

7. Social Security and Related Programs

(Data in this section relate to continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii, except as noted)

GENERAL NOTE

Broadly considered, the term "social security" may encompass all public provisions for payments to individuals on an insurance or similar basis to compensate for part of the loss in earnings resulting from old age, sickness, disability, unemployment, or death; assistance, or payments on a needs basis, to persons with inadequate income; public aid through employment on work projects; and insurance against the costs of medical and hospital care and services rendered to individuals to improve their health, earning power, and welfare. The aggregate expenditures for these purposes from Federal and State and local funds are shown in table 200; these expenditures may be compared with total receipts and expenditures of Federal, State, and local governments by reference to tables 277-279 and 311-315.

Social Insurance and Related Programs (tables 200-204).—This category comprises a group of programs under which recurring or other payments are made on the basis of past earnings or service, including the two insurance programs established by the Social Security Act for industrial and commercial workers—Federal old-age and survivors insurance and Federal-State unemployment compensation; the two similar programs administered by the Railroad Retirement Board for employees of railroads and certain of their affiliates; retirement, disability and survivor programs for veterans, other military personnel, and employees of Federal, State, and local governments; and workmen's compensation. Information on benefits and beneficiaries under these programs, by risk met, is shown in table 204. The Social Security Bulletin carries current data on all these programs for which monthly figures are available, and its supplement, the Social Security Yearbook, summarizes annual data for all. More detailed information for programs appears in this section in tables on old-age and survivors insurance, State unemployment compensation, railroad retirement, and railroad unemployment insurance, and in tables 187, 189-192, 328-331, and 415 in other sections of this Abstract.

The extent to which wages and salaries in the United States are earned in employments covered under selected social insurance and related programs is shown in table 201. Coverage, eligibility, disqualifications, and levels of benefits differ for the various programs. Notes to the detailed tables indicate the major limitations to be considered in interpreting the data; source notes indicate the publications which should be consulted for analyses of the figures and of administrative factors which may affect the data.

Public Aid.—Since 1936 the Social Security Board has collected or compiled data from States on payments to needy persons from public funds and has issued this information in summary tables for the continental United States, including data furnished by other Federal agencies on subsistence payments to farmers, and on persons employed on Federal work programs and their earnings from such employment (table 205). The amounts shown as assistance exclude administrative costs and represent total payments to recipients from Federal, State, and local funds, including sums made available to the States as Federal grants under the Social Security Act for old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind. The Social Security Bulletin and Yearbook give these data also in terms of source of funds and operations under State public assistance plans approved by the Social Security Board as distinct from other similar programs in the United States.

Health and Welfare Services.—The Social Security Act of 1935 included grants to States for maternal and child health services, services for crippled children, child welfare services, vocational rehabilitation, and public health. The Children's Bureau administers the first three of the programs listed, with funds appropriated under that act. Subsequent legislation has set up separate authorizations of funds for vocational rehabilitation (table 265) to be administered by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (Public Law No. 113, 78th Cong., approved July 6, 1943). The Public Health Service also now makes grants to States through a separate law (Public Law No. 410, 78th Cong., approved July 1, 1944). In tables 202 and 203 are shown the Federal funds granted for these health and welfare programs and for other purposes under the Social Security Act and other Federal laws.

SOCIAL INSURANCE FOR INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL WORKERS

The social insurance programs established under the Social Security Act cover employment in industry and commerce, specifically excluding such types of service as agricultural labor, domestic service in private homes, employment by governmental agencies and certain types of nonprofit organizations, and by railroads and certain of their affiliates, casual employment not in the course of the employer's business, employment by certain close relatives, and self-employment. Workers are insured against wage loss resulting from old age and death under the federally administered old-age and survivors insurance program, and against unemployment under State unemployment compensation programs. In addition, the Rhode Island Unemployment Compensation Board administers cash benefits for workers who suffer a wage loss because of temporary sickness, covering workers included under the State unemployment compensation law.

Old-age and Survivors Insurance (tables 206-214).—As amended in 1939, this program provides monthly retirement benefits to fully insured workers at age 65 or over and to their wives aged 65 or over and children under age 16, or 18 if still at school. Survivor benefits comprise monthly payments to certain dependents of fully or currently insured workers—children under age 16, or school children under 18, and widows if they have in their care a child beneficiary of the deceased insured worker. If the deceased worker was fully insured, survivor benefits are payable to his widow aged 65 or over, or if he leaves no widow or unmarried child under 18, to wholly dependent parents aged 65 or over. If no monthly benefits are payable for the month in which the insured worker dies, a lump sum is paid to the widow, child, or parent, or as reimbursement for funeral expenses to a person or persons equitably entitled to such payment.

A worker is fully insured if, when he files his claim for retirement benefits, he has received at least $50 in wages from covered employment in a minimum of 6 quarters and in 1 quarter of every 2 which have elapsed since the end of 1936—or since attainment of age 21 if later—and his attainment of age 65 or death, or if he has had at least 40 quarters of coverage. A worker is currently insured if he has had wages of $50 or more from covered employment in at least 6 of the 12 quarters immediately preceding the current quarter.

Monthly benefits and lump-sum payments are based on the worker's average wage as legally defined. The minimum payable on the basis of an insured worker's wage record is $10 a month, and the maximum is the least of the following three amounts: $85 a month, 80 percent of the legally defined average monthly wage of the insured worker, or twice the amount he would receive as a monthly retirement benefit on the basis of his wage credits. Benefits—which have been payable since January 1940—are suspended for any month in which the beneficiary, or the person on whose wage record benefits are based, earned $15 or more in covered employment.

Workers in employments covered by the program and their employers each pay contributions on the worker's wages, not counting amounts above the first $3,000 in a year. The rate has been 1 percent for workers and 1 percent for employers since 1937, as a result of laws successively postponing scheduled increases. An amount equal to the contributions collected is appropriated for deposit in the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund from which benefits and administrative costs are paid. The wage credits of a worker—i. e., the amounts of his wages subject to contribution—are recorded in individual employee accounts maintained by the Social Security Board.

Employment Security (tables 215-223).—State unemployment compensation laws, in general, cover the same types of employment as old-age and survivors insurance, but some States limit their coverage to workers in firms with 8, 6, 4, 3, or 2 or more employees in a specified number of weeks in the year.

State reports on employment and wages under their unemployment compensation systems (tables 215 and 216) include total pay rolls of subject employers. Employers in all States but one contribute to State unemployment funds at a standard rate of 2.7 percent of wages paid, not counting amounts above the first $3,000 in a year paid to an employee. In a very few States employees also contribute. In all but nine States, employer contribution rates in 1944 were adjusted in accordance with "experience rating"—based, in general, on the extent to which their workers have drawn benefits. The Federal Government imposes a Federal unemployment tax on substantially all employers of 8 or more in industry or commerce; against this Federal tax employers credit, up to 90 percent of their Federal liability, the amounts they have contributed under State unemployment compensation laws or would have contributed if they had been assessed at the standard rate.

Contributions collected by States are deposited to State accounts in the Federal unemployment trust fund from which States withdraw amounts needed for benefit payments. The Federal Government, through grants to States certified by the Social Security Board, meets the necessary administrative costs of State unemployment compensation systems which the Social Security Board finds in conformity, in law and administration, with statutory Federal requirements.

Benefits are paid only to unemployed covered workers who meet qualifying conditions of the State laws. In general a waiting period of 1 or 2 weeks must be served. Benefits are payable for a maximum number of weeks, 16 in most States but ranging from 14 to 23. Payments are limited to about 50 percent of wages up to maximums ranging from $15-$22 a week, depending on the State law.

Applications with the United States Employment Service and nonagricultural placements are reported in this section. Administrative responsibility for the Nation-wide employment service was delegated to the War Manpower Commission in 1942.

SOCIAL INSURANCE FOR RAILROAD WORKERS

The programs established under the Railroad Retirement Act and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act cover social insurance for employees of railroads (including the Railway Express Agency and the Pullman Company) subject to part I of the Interstate Commerce Act, affiliated companies such as refrigerator-car loan companies which perform services in connection with railroad transportation, organizations such as railroad and traffic associations maintained by two or more covered employers, and standard railway-labor organizations which are national in scope. Both programs are administered by the Railroad Retirement Board, which publishes detailed data on operations in its Monthly Review and Annual Report.

Railroad Retirement Insurance (tables 224-229).—The Railroad Retirement Act, as passed in 1935 and amended in 1937, provides for five classes of retirement and survivor benefits: (1) Employee annuities, based on years of service (up to a maximum of 30 if service before 1937 is included) and on the average monthly compensation (exclusive of earnings over $300 a month). Age annuities are payable at age 65 or, on a reduced basis, at age 60 after 30 years of service. Annuities for total and permanent disability are payable after 30 years of service or, if after less than 30 years, on a reduced basis at age 60. At present, the maximum annuity is $120 a month. (2) Survivor annuities, paid to the spouse of a deceased annuitant who had elected to take a reduction in his own benefit. (3) Death-benefit annuities, paid under the 1935 Act, and for a 12-month period only, to the spouse or dependent next of kin of a deceased annuitant. (4) Lump-sum death benefits, paid under the 1937 Act to the designated beneficiary or to surviving relatives in a prescribed order of precedence. The benefit is roughly equal to a return of contributions less retirement benefits received. (5) Pensions, paid under the 1937 Act to individuals who were on the carrier pension rolls on July 1, 1937, and who were not eligible for annuities on that date.

The funds of the retirement system come from a tax on compensation (exclusive of earnings over $300 a month). The total tax rate, divided equally between employer and employee, started at 5½ percent in 1937, and is scheduled to rise by ½ percent at 3-year intervals until 7½ percent is reached in 1949. Appropriations for benefit payments and administration and for establishing a reserve under the Railroad Retirement Act are made by Congress annually on the basis of anticipated tax collections.

Railroad Unemployment Insurance (tables 230 and 231).—The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act was passed in 1938 and amended in 1939 and 1940. It became effective on July 1, 1939. Benefits are payable during a benefit year to unemployed workers who earned at least $150 in compensation with a covered employer in the base year, which is the calendar year preceding the beginning of the benefit year. A benefit year begins on July 1 and ends on June 30 of the following year. Benefits are payable for each day of unemployment in excess of 7 in the first 14-day registration period and for each day in excess of 4 in subsequent registration periods, up to a maximum of 100 days in the benefit year.

The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act also provides that the Board may operate an employment service for the railroad industry. In 1944, the Board's employment service performed the functions of manpower recruitment and employment stabilization for the railroad industry as a coordinated agency of the War Manpower Commission.

The railroad unemployment insurance program is financed entirely by contributions paid directly to the Railroad Retirement Board by covered employers, amounting to 3 percent of pay rolls (exclusive of individual earnings in excess of $300 a month).

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE (Tables 233 and 234)

Under the Social Security Act, the Federal Government shares with the States the costs of administration and money payments for special types of public assistance (aid to needy persons aged 65 and over, needy blind, and dependent children under age 16—or 18 if regularly attending school—who have been deprived of parental support for specified reasons). To receive a Federal grant under any one of these programs, a State must have a plan approved by the Social Security Board as meeting the requirements of the act.

The basis for Federal matching is one-half the amount (up to $40 a month) determined by the State as the total assistance payment to a needy aged or blind person, and, for aid to dependent children, one-half the amount given by the State up to $18 a month for the first child and $12 for each additional child aided in the same home. In addition, the Federal Government pays half the administrative costs of approved State programs for aid to the blind and aid to dependent children and increases its grants to States for old-age assistance by 5 percent as a contribution toward such costs.

Payments to recipients under all these programs do not necessarily represent the sole resources of the persons receiving payments; in making payments, States take account of the resources as well as the requirements of recipients and may use general assistance to supplement inadequate payments under the three special types of assistance.

Some States administer plans for aid to dependent children and aid to the blind without Federal funds, and in all States general assistance is administered without Federal financial participation.

¹ Old-age retirement benefits under all acts, disability retirement benefits under Railroad Retirement and Civil Service Retirement Acts, and disability payments to veterans.² Primary and wife's benefits and benefits to children of primary beneficiaries. Partly estimated.³ Age and disability annuitants and pensioners as of 20th of month. Payments represent amounts certified, minus cancellations.⁴ Veterans receiving pensions and compensation and amount of payments.⁵ Includes survivor benefits under joint and survivor elections; not adjusted for suspension of annuities of persons reemployed under National Defense Acts of June 28, 1940, and Jan. 24, 1942. Data for 1937-39 estimated on basis of fiscal-year data.⁶ Number and amount of widow's, widow's current, parent's, and child's benefits. Partly estimated.⁷ Widows, parents, and children of deceased veterans on whose account payments were made.⁸ Number and amount of survivor payments with respect to deaths of covered workers under both the 1935 and 1939 acts, and, for the period January 1937-August 1939, payments to covered workers at age 65 totaling $9.9 million, which are not survivor payments.⁹ Number and amount of payments for burial of deceased veterans. Number estimated 1937-39.¹⁰ Represents average weekly number. Amounts adjusted for voided benefit checks. ¹¹ Not available.¹² Number represents average number of persons receiving benefits for unemployment in a 14-day registration period. Amounts for 1941-43 adjusted for underpayments and recoveries of overpayments. Benefit payments began July 1939. ¹³ Data estimated; for 1943, preliminary.¹⁴ Data represent payments to individuals and exclude cost of administration. Payments under Social Security and R. R. Retirement Acts (including retroactive payments) and payments under R. R. Unemployment Insurance Act are amounts certified; payments under Civil Service Comm. and Veterans Admin. are disbursements minus cancellations; R. I. sickness compensation and State unemployment insurance payments are checks issued by State agencies.¹⁵ Includes lump-sum survivor benefits and refunds. Data estimated; for 1943, preliminary.

¹ For 1933-January 1936 represents recipients of payments from State and local funds only and amount of such payments; for subsequent years, recipients of payments from Federal, State, and local funds for programs administered under State plans approved by Social Security Board and from State and local funds for programs administered under State laws without Federal participation, and amount of such payments. Excludes cost of hospitalization and burial aid, beginning September 1940, recipients and cost of medical care.

For 1933-35 includes relief and nonrelief persons (other than administrative employees) employed under general relief program of FERA and cases aided by local authorities from public funds under poor laws, and estimated amount of such relief. Excludes cost of hospitalization and burial aid, beginning September 1940, recipients and cost of medical care. Data for 1933-March 1937 from W.P.A.

² Cases receiving relief under emergency, education, student aid, rural rehabilitation, and transient program of emergency relief administration, largely financed from FERA funds and amount of such relief.

⁴ Excludes administrative employees and their earnings.

⁵ Enrolled persons only; number estimated for 1933 and 1934; for subsequent years, represents averages computed from reports on number of persons enrolled on 18th, 28th and last day of the month, except for Indian Division, for which averages were computed from daily reports. Earnings estimated by multiplying average monthly number enrolled by average of 70 through June 1939, $67 for July-October 1939, $64.25 for November 1939-June 1941, and $67.50 subsequently for enrollees other than Indians, and $60.50 for Indians. Average amount based on obligations incurred for cash allowances, clothing, shelter, subsistence, and medical care for persons enrolled, and for certain other items. Data from CCC.

⁸ Aggregate of maximum weekly number of persons employed and estimated total earnings. Data from W.P.A.

¹ Cumulative total for 1937-39 includes 114,000 voided account numbers in which no accounts were established.

² Partly estimated, based on employer reports to Bureau of Internal Revenue. Workers adjusted for duplication of individuals with more than 1 account.

⁴ Includes 11,362,000 accounts established in 1936 when the program began.

⁵ Annual figure includes two quarterly data exclude 114,000 applications received from civilian employees of the War Department and 4,577 applications received in late 1943 in inclusion of quarterly data.

NO. 212.—OLD-AGE AND SURVIVORS INSURANCE—SAMPLE (1 PERCENT) OF WORKERS WITH WAGE CREDITS AT SOME TIME IN 1937-42, BY CUMULATIVE WAGE CREDITS IN 1937-42, INSURANCE STATUS JANUARY 1, 1943, AND AGE GROUP

[Sample contains wage records of 590,559 workers with wage credits (i. e., taxable wages which can be included in the wage base for benefits) of $2,046,119,137 in 1937-42 identified for posting to individual accounts by July 16, 1943—approximately 1 percent of all workers with wage credits at some time during 1937-42. Data only partly adjusted for duplication of workers with more than 1 account. Excludes workers who became entitled to primary insurance benefits before Jan. 1, 1943, and most workers on whose account a survivor's monthly benefit or a lump-sum death claim had been awarded prior to October 1943, because of their death before January 1943. Because of mechanical processes and extent of adjustments for delayed wage records, data may differ slightly from other tables. Figures in italics represent data for less than 100 workers and may be unreliable because of the large probable sampling error.]

¹ A fully insured individual, generally, is one who has had not less than 1 quarter of coverage for each 2 of the quarters elapsing after 1936, or after the quarter in which he attained the age of 21, whichever is later, and up to but excluding the quarter in which he attained the age of 65, or died, whichever first occurred and in no case less than 6 quarters; or one who has had at least 40 quarters of coverage. A quarter of coverage is a calendar quarter in which the worker has been paid not less than $50 in taxable wages. A currently insured individual is one who has been paid taxable wages of not less than $50 for each of not less than 6 of the 12 quarters immediately preceding the quarter in which he died. Uninsured workers are persons with wage credits who are neither fully nor currently insured.

² Total includes 6,580 of unknown age not shown separately, of whom 327 were fully insured, 134 currently insured only, and 6,119 uninsured.

⁴ Inapplicable under provisions of Social Security Act.

No. 218.—OLD-AGE AND SURVIVORS INSURANCE—PERCENTAGE DISTRIBUTION OF WORKERS WITH FIRST WAGE CREDITS IN 1942; BY AMOUNT OF SUCH CREDITS, FOR SPECIFIED AGE GROUP, SEX, AND RACE

[Computed from sample containing wage records of 1,354,775 workers with wage credits of $1,523,448,968 identified for posting to individual accounts by July 16, 1943—approximately 3 percent of all workers with wage credits in 1942. Wage credits exclude wages in excess of first $3,000 a year earned in covered employment by any 1 worker. Excludes 100 workers of unknown sex and/or race, wage items not identified for posting, and wage items reported too late for inclusion. Cents omitted in tabulating individual earnings. Not adjusted for duplication of workers with more than 1 account.]

¹ Worker and total wage credits in year assigned to State in which worker was reported as employed in third quarter of 1942; if not employed in third quarter, worker and wages assigned to State in which employed in any other quarter of year. Because of workers employed in more than 1 State during year, this allocation understates number of workers with wage credits in State during year and overstates actual average wage credits per worker in each State during the year. However, it yields an unduplicated count of workers and actual average wage credits per individual for the United States as a whole. State data for workers and their wage credits were reported on this basis in previous years.

² Multistate workers (about 11 percent of the total with wage credits in 1942) counted individually in each State in which employed; all wage credits received in State allocated to the State in which actually earned. Counting of multistate workers in more than 1 State results in duplication in count of workers in the United States and understates actual average wages of individual workers, but yields an actual count of workers and wages in State during year.

³ Computed on basis of unrounded figures.

⁴ Adjusted for 12.9 percent duplication because of workers employed in more than 1 State.

⁵ Based on unduplicated count of workers in United States.

¹ Sum of balances in State clearing account and benefit-payment account, and in State unemployment trust fund account in U. S. Treasury. State unemployment trust fund accounts include interest credited.² Contributions, penalties, and interest from employers, and contributions from employees. Adjusted for refunds of contributions and for dishonored contribution checks. Current contribution rates (percent of taxable wages) were: For employers, 2.7 percent except in Michigan, where rate was 3.0 percent; for employees, 1.5 percent in Rhode Island to June 1, 1942, thereafter 0.5 percent, and 1.0 percent in Alabama, California, Kentucky (discontinued July 1, 1942), and New Jersey. Experience rating, operative in 34 States in 1942 and in 40 States in 1943, modifies above rates. All States collect contributions either wholly or in part on quarterly basis.³ Adjusted for voided benefit checks.

1 Data from War Manpower Commission.

2 For 1936 and 1937, represents complete placements only; for later years, includes supplementary placements (verified placements made without all steps necessary for complete placement).

3 Excludes forestry and fishing through 1939.

4 Number of States and Territories paying benefits as follows: 1936 and 1937, 1; 1938—January–March, 2; April–June, 2; July–August, 2; September–November, 2; December, 3; 1939—January–June, 4; July and thereafter, 5.

5 Excludes railroads and allied groups subject, as of July 1, 1939, to Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.

6 Workers in covered employment on last pay roll of each type (weekly, semimonthly, etc.), in month.

7 Total wages in covered employment for all pay periods ended in period. Average wages cannot be computed from these figures because data on number of workers relate to last pay roll in month. Wages for 1936 and 1939 adjusted to include, for New York, estimated nontransferable wages (wages in excess of $2,000 to an individual from 1 employer). Data for 1936–39 not available; for years 1940–43 estimated; for months of 1943, represent average weekly number of weeks of unemployment compensated during the month.

8 For 1936–39, represents number of benefit payments.

9 Unadjusted for voided benefit checks. Net (adjusted) payments were: 1936, $999,786,000; 1937, $289,429,286,000; 1940, $318,700,000; 1941, $344,321,000; 1942, $344,084,000; 1943, $79,643,000.

10 Data not available.

11 Excludes: California, Maine, and Oregon for January, Massachusetts and Virginia for January–March; Indiana for May–June; and New York for entire year. For February and March, Maine reported continued claims for total unemployment only.

12 Excludes New York for January–March 1939; data not available.

13 Excludes Alaska and Hawaii.

14 Data for 1943 and 1943 include $104,000 and $77,000, respectively, resulting from review of 1938–41 seasonal claims in Oregon; 1943 figure also includes $12,000 resulting from delayed payments for 1941–42 claims in Colorado; not allocated by month.

NO. 225.—RAILROAD RETIREMENT—ANNUITIES AND PENSIONS BY CLASS—NUMBER OF PAYMENTS INITIALLY CERTIFIED, TERMINATED BY DEATH, AND IN FORCE: 1937 TO 1944

[Figures for initial certifications are for period during which payment was first certified and not for period during which annuity began to accrue. Figures for terminations by death are for period during which notice of death was received and not for period during which beneficiary died. Cumulative figures exclude claims declared ineligible, erroneous certifications, and erroneous reports of death. In force figures as of any date include only certifications made up to that date, less terminations by death reported by that date; they are also adjusted for recertifications, reinstatements, and terminations other than by death (suspension, return to service, recovery from disability, and commutation to lump-sum payment), items which are not shown in this table.]

¹ State of residence when first check was mailed.² Represents benefits, not individual beneficiaries. In 2 cases the death-benefit annuity was divided among 5 beneficiaries; in 82 cases, the same individual received both a survivor and death-benefit annuity.³ Individuals with respect to whose deaths the benefits were certified, not individuals certified to receive benefits. About 9 percent of benefits were divided between 2 or more individuals.⁴ Less than $500.⁵ Includes for Hawaii: 32 employee annuities at total monthly rate of $1,743; 1 survivor annuity at $17, 4 lump-sum death benefits totaling $1,164; for Alaska: 20 employee annuities at $1,062, and 3 lump-sum death-benefit annuities totaling $628.

No. 229.—NUMBER OF EMPLOYERS, BY AMOUNT OF CREDITED COMPENSATION AND NUMBER OF MONTHS OF SERVICE: 1942

[Includes employees covered under Railroad Retirement and Railroad Unemployment Insurance Acts for whom wages were reported by subject employers. Some of these employees also had wages taxable under Federal Insurance Contributions Act and are therefore included in preceding tables on old-age and survivors insurance. The earnings in this table include wages and salaries, commissions, back pay and payments for time lost as an employee, reported by subject employers; however, the excess over $300 in any one calendar month for an employee is excluded. A month of service is a calendar month in which service for compensation was rendered to subject employers or with respect to which payment was made for time lost as an employee.]

¹ An application for a certificate of benefit rights is submitted when an unemployed worker applies for unemployment insurance benefits for the first time with respect to a benefit year. A certificate of benefit rights is issued to each employee who has filed an application for such a certificate and who has had sufficient earnings from a railroad employer in the base year to qualify for unemployment insurance benefits. Data apply to unemployment in the current year in 1939-40, 1940-41, and 1941-42, and unemployment in the current or prior year in 1942-43 and 1943-44.

² A claim is prepared for each period beginning with a day of unemployment. The period prior to Nov. 1, 1940, comprised 15 consecutive days, and 14 consecutive days after Nov. 1, 1940. It contains registrations for each day of unemployment in the period and is submitted at the end of the period. Claims are received even where there are insufficient days of unemployment for the payment of benefits.

³ Adjusted for payment of underpayments, recovery of overpayments and erroneous payments. On claims applying to 15-day periods begun prior to Nov. 1, 1940, benefit payments were certified for qualified claimants who had served their waiting period if the claimant registered for at least 8 days of unemployment; the amount of the certification is the product of the daily benefit amount and the number of days of unemployment in excess of 7. On claims applying to 14-day periods begun on or after Nov. 1, 1940, a benefit payment is certified for qualified claimants who had served their waiting period if the claimant registered for at least 5 days of unemployment, the amount certified being the product of the daily benefit amount and the number of days of unemployment in excess of 4. In addition, benefits are certified on waiting-period claims, if the number of days of unemployment in such period is 8 or more; on such claims the benefit is calculated as the product of the daily benefit amount and the number of days of unemployment in excess of 7. Benefit rates and the total number of days for which benefits may be paid were also increased by the 1940 amendments.

¹ Partly estimated; total not as large as sum of State figures because of adjustment for 3 States. See footnotes 6 and 7.

² Excludes some cases and local funds not administered by State agency.

³ Includes program administered without Federal participation.

⁴ Estimated.

⁵ Excludes assistance in kind and cases receiving assistance in kind only and, for a few counties, cash payments and cases receiving cash payments. Amount of payments shown represents approximately 60 percent of total.

⁶ Includes unknown number of cases receiving medical care, hospitalization, and burial only, and total payments for these services.

⁷ Represents 2,528 cases aided by county commissioners and 2,906 cases aided under program administered by State Board of Public Welfare; amount of duplication believed to be large.

8. Education

GENERAL NOTE

Data on school attendance and on highest grade of school completed were obtained for each person in the United States as part of the 1940 Census of Population (see tables 235-241). The Biennial Survey of Education, conducted by the U. S. Office of Education, covers enrollment and attendance, teaching staff, finances, and other information on public education facilities at all levels, with less complete information for private schools (see tables 242-260). Other statistical studies of the U. S. Office of Education, publications of the National Education Association, Annual or Biennial Reports of the State Departments of Education, and educational journals are the other chief regular sources of statistical materials in the field of education. Many special studies are made by research divisions of city school systems, by schools of education in colleges and universities, and by educational foundations.

Educational Statistics for Individuals.—The school attendance statistics compiled from the 1940 Population Census are based on the replies to the enumerator's inquiry as to whether the person had attended, or had been enrolled in, any regular school or college between March 1 and April 1, 1940. Night schools, extension schools, or vocational schools are not included unless they are a part of the regular school system, and no correspondence schools are included.

In the same census, for the first time, a question on the formal educational attainment of each person was included. For each person the last full grade that the person had completed in the regular school system—public, private, or parochial school, college, or university. This question replaced the inquiry on illiteracy included in previous censuses. For persons 25 years old and over, the highest grade of school completed is given by 5-year age periods, but not cross-classified by school attendance as most of these persons are assumed to have completed their schooling. Several tables are included summarizing the educational statistics in terms of the median year of school completed. The median year of school completed may be defined as the year which divides the population group into equal parts—one-half having completed more schooling and one-half having completed less schooling than the median. The completion of the first year of high school is indicated by 9 and of the last year of college by 16. For the sake of comparability, the first year of high school is uniformly represented by 9, although there are some areas with only 7 years of elementary school.

Statistics for Schools.—Working through national committees since 1910, the U. S. Office of Education, in cooperation with the State departments of education, has brought about a considerable degree of uniformity in recording and reporting educational statistics and a similar movement has been in progress with institutions of higher education since about 1930, the U. S. Office of Education serving as a clearing house for uniform procedures in records and reports.

The statistics presented in the Abstract from the Biennial Survey of Education include current national totals and summaries for a period of years. The national totals are reasonably complete for the types of education covered but data are not included for private schools of art, music, drama, etc., for private trade and vocational schools or private correspondence schools. The introduction of the junior high school, which includes the 7th and 8th grades from the traditional elementary school and the 9th grade from the regular high school, has made it impossible to compare elementary school or high school data over a period of years except on the basis of grade enrollment, 8 grades as elementary and 4 grades as secondary. Similarly the change in status of a large number of normal schools and teachers' colleges to State colleges and universities makes comparison of normal schools and teachers' colleges over a period of years nonrepresentative of the complete teacher training field. Detailed statistics on the major fields of education are published in the reports of the Biennial Survey of Education. National totals from these reports are summarized in the chapter, "Statistical Summary of Education."

Information presented in the Abstract on vocational education, including War Production Training, is obtained from the "Digest of Annual Reports of State Boards for Vocational Education to the U. S. Office of Education, Vocational Division (See tables 261-264). The data on vocational rehabilitation are compiled by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (see table 265).

Data in this section relate to continental United States except as noted.

NO. 235.—PERSONS ATTENDING SCHOOL BY SINGLE YEARS OF AGE FROM 5 TO 20, BY SEX: 1910 TO 1940

[Statistics for 1940 are based on attendance at or enrollment in any regular school or college, including night schools, extension schools, or vocational schools, if they were part of the regular school system. No correspondence schools were included. In the 3 prior censuses, the school attendance question was not restricted as to type of school or college. In 1940, the question referred to the period between Mar. 1, and Apr. 1, 1940; in 1930, to the period between Sept. 1, 1929, and Apr. 1, 1930; and in 1920 and 1910, to the period between the preceding Sept. 1 and the census date (Jan. 1)]

¹ Census enumeration as of June 1, 1870 to 1900; Apr. 15, 1910; Jan. 1, 1920; Apr. 1, 1930 and 1940.

² Excluding population of Indian Territory which is not covered by public-school statistics, and also, for 1890, population of Indian reservations. These were not enumerated at censuses prior to 1890.

³ Current expense, capital outlays, and interest.

⁴ Census estimates for July 1.

⁵ Estimated by Scripps Foundation.

⁶ Based on total number of teachers, supervisors, and principals.

⁷ Beginning with 1920 this item excludes data for night, summer, part-time, and continuation schools separately reported.

² Number in average daily attendance.

³ For 1940.

⁴ Not available.

⁵ For 1938.

⁶ Data do not include Federal schools for natives.

No. 261.—VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS AND VOCATIONAL TEACHER-TRAINING COURSES, FEDERALLY AIDED—NUMBER OF TEACHERS AND STUDENTS, BY CLASS OF SCHOOL OR COURSE AND BY SEX: YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 1920 TO 1944

[Institutions Federally aided are reimbursed from Federal funds provided under the act known as "The Smith-Hughes Act," or the "National Vocational Education Act of 1917," and subsequent acts extending the benefits of vocational education to Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and providing for the further development of vocational education. These acts, administered by the Office of Education provide appropriations for reimbursement in part from Federal funds for expenditures by States and local communities for vocational education. Data for Ha wai are included beginning 1930, for Puerto Rico beginning 1934, and for Alaska beginning 1937.]

NO. 265.—VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION OF DISABLED PERSONS, BY NUMBER AND BY ACTIVE CASES ON ROLL, BY STATES, AND FOR HAWAII AND PUERTO RICO: 1930 TO 1944.

[The Vocational Rehabilitation Amendments of 1943 (Public Law 113) expanded the Federal-State program for the vocational rehabilitation of civilians injured in industry or by accident or illness, or impaired by congenital defect. The scope of services now includes any services necessary to render disabled persons employable or to become more advantageously employable. The program is in operation in the 48 States, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Figures given relate to cases aided by Federal and State funds. Total expenditures in 1944 (fiscal year) comprised: Federal funds $2,971,572; State and private funds $2,379,710 (subject to final audit)]

9. Elections

GENERAL NOTE

The conduct of elections in the United States for Federal, State, and local offices and on State and local issues, is regulated by State laws or, in some cities and a few counties by local charters. An important exception is that the United States Constitution prescribes the basis of representation in Congress and the manner of electing the President of the United States and grants to Congress the right to regulate the times, places, and manner of electing Federal officers. Almost all of the more than 155 thousand governmental units in the United States conduct elections at various intervals—annual, biennial, quadrennial or longer—for different types of offices and other purposes (see table 271). No regular and complete system exists for reporting either the number of elections held or the numbers of votes cast for the multitude of candidates, except for Federal offices, and in most States, for State offices. Few States require central reporting on local elections. The numbers of elections and the numbers of voters participating vary between Presidential and the intervening Congressional election years, and between even-numbered and odd-numbered years.

The tables in this section give summary data on elections to Federal offices, Army and Navy voting in the 1944 elections, State-wide elections, and approximately the number of elections held in specified years by each type of local government in the United States. State and city proposals voted upon are summarized. City bond-issue proposals voted upon are also presented in more detail in Section 11, State and Local Government Finances and Employment, table 334, p. 327. The numbers of registered voters in 1942 in each city of 25,000 inhabitants or more are given in the Cities Supplement to the Statistical Abstract.

NO. 270.—APPORTIONMENT OF CONGRESSIONAL REPRESENTATION, BY STATES, FROM ADOPTION OF CONSTITUTION TO 1940

NOTE.—The population for apportionment purposes excluded Indians not taxed and, until 1870, two-fifths of the number of slaves. In 1940, it was held that all Indians are subject to Federal taxation. The apportionment ratios were arbitrarily chosen until 1850. From 1850 to 1900, these ratios were the apportionment population of the U. S. divided by the number of Representatives. From 1910 on, the apportionments were computed from priority lists rather than from ratios. There was no apportionment in 1920. For a discussion of methods of apportionment, see Senate Document No. 304, 76th Congress, 3d session, "A Survey of Methods of Apportionment in Congress," by Edward V. Huntington.

No. 271.—NUMBER OF FINAL (GENERAL), SPECIAL, AND PRIMARY ELECTIONS HELD IN 1943 AND SCHEDULED FOR 1944

[As used here, an "election" is the casting of votes on a single day for candidates for office or on initiative and referendum proposals of a governmental unit—State, county, city or village, township, school district, or other special-purpose district. See table 310, p. 308 for numbers of governmental units of each type. Primary elections include those held for selection of party officers and convention delegates. Special elections are those held only to fill vacancies in office or to submit proposals to popular vote at times other than regularly scheduled elections]

No. 278.—VOTES FOR SINGLE OFFICE RECEIVING HIGHEST STATE-WIDE VOTE IN 1942 PRIMARY ELECTIONS

[In a number of States nomination at the primary is tantamount to election; hence the extent of participation by voters at the primary is sometimes greater than at the general election. With few exceptions, the statistics are those reported to the Bureau of the Census by the respective Secretaries of State.]

¹ No candidate for any Federal or State office.

² Nomination of candidates for public office is by the convention method in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

³ No data.

⁴ Democratic primary elections were held only for U. S. Congressmen (in the 3d, 6th, 7th, 8th, and 9th congressional districts).

⁶ Based on the returns from only 18 congressional districts in New York.

⁸ Primary elections were held only for U. S. Congressmen (in the 6th and 8th congressional districts).

10. National Government Finances

General note as to bases used in compiling statistics of receipts and expenditures of the United States Government.—Four different bases are used in compiling both the receipts and expenditures of the Government. These bases, in the case of receipts, are the daily Treasury statements (unrevised and revised), warrants issued, and collections reported. The expenditures of the Government are published on the first 3 of these bases and also on the basis of checks issued. Figures in the daily Treasury statements (unrevised) which are on a current cash basis are compiled from the latest daily reports from the Treasury offices or public depositories. Owing to the distance of some of these offices and depositories from the Treasury, reports from them are somewhat delayed in reaching the Treasury, and consequently it is necessary to issue the unrevised Treasury statements before they are received. The figures for actual transactions during a month or year which are calculated to take into account these delayed reports are said to be on a basis of daily Treasury statements (revised). The unrevised figures are the basis of the Budget estimates submitted to Congress by the President.

It is provided by law that warrants shall be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury in acknowledgment of money received, and that warrants must be drawn by the Secretary of the Treasury for all disbursements of money. Some of these warrants for expenditures do not represent actual payments but are merely advances of credit to disbursing officers, who then issue checks in payment of Government obligations. Expenditures on the basis of warrants issued include unexpended balances to the credit of disbursing officers at the end of the year but do not include expenditures made during the year from unexpended balances of the preceding year.

Expenditures on the basis of checks issued (see table 194, 1941 Statistical Abstract) represent most accurately the actual expenditures during any given year. They differ from expenditures shown by daily Treasury statements (revised) because they include checks outstanding at the end of the year and exclude unpaid checks at the beginning of the year.

Government transactions are classified according to the accounts through which they are effected. The three classes of accounts are: General fund accounts, which include the general revenues and from which the operating expenses of the Government, including capital outlays and fixed charges, are paid under appropriations by Congress; special fund accounts, or funds received under special authorizations of law which are earmarked for some specific purpose; and trust fund accounts, representing money received and held in trust for the benefit of individuals or classes of individuals. The latter are not strictly Government monies and are shown separately in all tables except No. 278. (See headnote of that table.)

All figures for receipts and expenditures include postal surpluses or deficiencies only; postal revenues other than surplus receipts and postal expenditures payable from postal revenues are shown in table 278.

³ Includes tonnage tax prior to 1932. Beginning 1932, tonnage tax is included in miscellaneous receipts.

⁴ On basis of warrants issued 1789 to 1930; thereafter, on basis of checks issued.

⁵ Average for period Mar. 4, 1789, to Dec. 31, 1800.

⁶ Averages are for entire period though there were no amounts under these items for certain years.

⁷ Years ended Dec. 31, 1801 to 1842; average for 1841-1850 is for the period Jan. 1, 1841, to June 30, 1850.

⁸ Less than $500. ⁹ Average for 1863 to 1865. ¹⁰ Average for 1881 and 1884. ¹¹ One year only, 1888.

¹² After deduction of net appropriations to Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund.

¹⁴ On basis of warrants issued prior to 1922. Exclusive of amounts transferred to civil-service retirement and disability fund.

¹⁵ See notes on corresponding periods, p. 261.

¹⁶ See note 6, p. 261. ¹⁷ Excludes interest accounts which are included in trust fund expenditures.

¹⁸ Revised to reflect expenditures under current classifications. ¹⁹ Excess of credits; deduct.

No. 280.—INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS, BY CHIEF TAX SOURCES: 1863 to 1944

NOTE.—All figures in thousands of dollars. The figures represent collections by internal revenue officers throughout the country, including deposits by postmasters of amounts received from sale of internal revenue stamps and deposits of internal revenue collected through customs offices, and, therefore, differ from those in tables 277 to 279 which represent the deposits of these collections in the Treasury or depositories during the fiscal year concerned, there being thus an overlapping of time. Certain items, included in the totals in the last column, are shown in detail in the second part of the table.

SUMMARY: 1913 TO 1942

[All tabulations from Statistics of Income include data for Alaska, District of Columbia, and Hawaii. Statistics are based on returns as filed, unaudited except to insure proper execution. Under the revenue laws, individuals are required to file returns as follows: (1) Single or married, for 1913 through 1916, those with net income of $3,000 or over; (2) single, or married and not living with husband or wife, for 1917 through 1924, $1,000 or over; 1925 through 1931, $1,500 or over; 1932 through 1939, $1,000 or over; for 1940, those with gross income of $800 or over, for 1941, $750 or over, and for 1942, $500 or over regardless of the amount of net income; (3) married and living with husband or wife, filing a joint return, for 1917 through 1924, those with net income of $2,000 or over; 1925 through 1931, $3,500 or over; 1932 through 1939, $2,500 or over; for 1940, those with gross income of $2,000 or over, for 1941, $1,500 or over, and for 1942, $1,200 or over regardless of the amount of net income; (4) every individual with gross income of $5,000 or over for 1921 through 1939, and as stated above for 1940-42. Data for returns showing no net income, filed in accordance with the latter provision, are not included in statistics shown. Fiduciaries are required to file returns on the same basis as single individuals, except that a return is required for every estate or trust of which any beneficiary is a nonresident alien, and for 1938 through 1942, a return is required for every trust having a net income of $100 or over. Partnership net profit or net loss is reported on the individual returns of copartners according to their shares]

² For 1938 through 1942 the alternative tax is imposed on returns with net long-term capital gain when such alternative tax is less than the sum of the normal tax and surtax computed on net income including net long-term capital gain; for 1938 through 1941, the alternative tax is imposed on returns with net long-term capital loss when such alternative tax is greater than the sum of the normal tax and surtax computed on net income after deducting net long-term capital loss.

⁴ Includes war excess-profits tax of $101,250,000 on individuals and $103,888,000 on partnerships.

⁵ Includes the following not shown separately in table: (a) Defense tax—1940, $128,350,000; 1941, $1,150,000; 1941 (prel.), $1,142,000. Defense tax, for taxable years beginning in 1940, is 10 percent of total income tax before deducting any credit, but not in excess of 10 percent of amount by which net income exceeds such income tax. For 1941, defense tax is eliminated, the amounts shown being for fiscal and part year returns beginning in 1940. (b) Optional tax on Form 1040A returns—1941, $323,479,000; 1941 (prel.), $300,961,000; 1942 (prel.), $1,311,340,000. Optional tax is that paid in lieu of normal tax and surtax by individuals electing to file Form 1040A (for gross income of not more than $3,000 entirely from salary, wages, and compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rents, annuities, and royalties). Excludes alternative tax on returns reporting deficit due to net long-term capital loss, which tax amounted to $615,000 for 1938; $300,000 for 1939; $473,000 for 1940; $2,326,000 for 1941; and $2,303,000 for 1941 (prel.). See note 2.

⁶ Preliminary figures for 1941 returns filed through June 1942, and for 1942 returns filed through June 1943. Complete figures include additional returns filed to December 31.

NO. 270.—APPORTIONMENT OF CONGRESSIONAL REPRESENTATION, BY STATES, FROM ADOPTION OF CONSTITUTION TO 1940

NOTE.—The population for apportionment purposes excluded Indians not taxed and, until 1870, two-fifths of the number of slaves. In 1940, it was held that all Indians are subject to Federal taxation. The apportionment ratios were arbitrarily chosen until 1870. From 1870 to 1900, these ratios were the apportionment population of the U. S. divided by the number of Representatives. From 1910 on, the apportionments were computed from priority lists rather than from ratios. There was no apportionment in 1820. For a discussion of methods of apportionment, see Senate Document No. 304, 75th Congress, 3d session, "A Survey of Methods of Apportionment in Congress," by Edward V. Huntington.

NO. 271.—NUMBER OF FINAL (GENERAL), SPECIAL, AND PRIMARY ELECTIONS HELD IN 1943 AND SCHEDULED FOR 1944

[As used here, an "election" is the casting of votes on a single day for candidacies for office or on initiative and referendum proposals of a governmental unit—State, county, city or village, township, school district, or other special-purpose district. See table 310, p. 308 for numbers of governmental units of each type. Primary elections include those held for selection of party officers and convention delegates. Special elections are those held only to fill vacancies in office or to submit proposals to popular vote at times other than regularly scheduled elections]

NO. 278.—VOTES FOR SINGLE OFFICE RECEIVING HIGHEST STATE-WIDE VOTE IN 1942 PRIMARY ELECTIONS

[In a number of States nomination at the primary is tantamount to election; hence the extent of participation by voters at the primary is sometimes greater than at the general election. With few exceptions, the statistics are those reported to the Bureau of the Census by the respective Secretaries of State.]

* No candidate for any Federal or State office.

* Nomination of candidates for public office is by the convention method in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

* No data.

* Democratic primary elections were held only for U. S. Congressmen (in the 3d, 6th, 7th, 8th, and 9th congressional districts).

* The Republican Party in Nevada did not enter candidates in the primary election except for State senator, and State assembly, 3d district, in Washoe County, and member of the assembly in Mineral County.

* Based on the returns from only 18 congressional districts in New York.

* There was no Republican candidate for the office of judge of the Utah supreme court. However, the Republican Party polled 13,720 votes of the 35,054 votes cast for U. S. Congressmen elected from the 2 districts into which Utah is divided.

* Primary elections were held only for U. S. Congressmen (in the 6th and 8th congressional districts).

10. National Government Finances

General note as to bases used in compiling statistics of receipts and expenditures of the United States Government.—Four different bases are used in compiling both the receipts and expenditures of the Government. These bases, in the case of receipts, are the daily Treasury statements (unrevised and revised), warrants issued, and collections reported. The expenditures of the Government are published on the first 3 of these bases and also on the basis of checks issued. Figures in the daily Treasury statements (unrevised) which are on a current cash basis are compiled from the latest daily reports from the Treasury offices or public depositories. Owing to the distance of some of these offices and depositories from the Treasury, reports from them are somewhat delayed in reaching the Treasury, and consequently it is necessary to issue the unrevised Treasury statements before they are received. The figures for actual transactions during a month or year which are calculated to take into account these delayed reports are said to be on a basis of daily Treasury statements (revised). The unrevised figures are the basis of the Budget estimates submitted to Congress by the President.

It is provided by law that warrants shall be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury in acknowledgment of money received, and that warrants must be drawn by the Secretary of the Treasury for all disbursements of money. Some of these warrants for expenditures do not represent actual payments but are merely advances of credit to disbursing officers, who then issue checks in payment of Government obligations. Expenditures on the basis of warrants issued include unexpended balances to the credit of disbursing officers at the end of the year but do not include expenditures made during the year from unexpended balances of the preceding year.

Expenditures on the basis of checks issued (see table 194, 1941 Statistical Abstract) represent most accurately the actual expenditures during any given year. They differ from expenditures shown by daily Treasury statements (revised) because they include checks outstanding at the end of the year and exclude unpaid checks at the beginning of the year.

Government transactions are classified according to the accounts through which they are effected. The three classes of accounts are: General fund accounts, which include the general revenues and from which the operating expenses of the Government, including capital outlays and fixed charges, are paid under appropriations by Congress; special fund accounts, or funds received under special authorizations of law which are earmarked for some specific purpose; and trust fund accounts, representing money received and held in trust for the benefit of individuals or classes of individuals. The latter are not strictly Government monies and are shown separately in all tables except No. 278. (See headnote of that table.)

All figures for receipts and expenditures include postal surpluses or deficiencies only; postal revenues other than surplus receipts and postal expenditures payable from postal revenues are shown in table 278.

NO. 277.—RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, BY CLASS OF ACCOUNTS: 1943 AND 1944

NOTE.—All figures in millions and tenths of millions of dollars. Figures are on the "current cash" basis shown by daily Treasury statements, unrevised; see general note above.

¹ Surplus or deficit takes into account public debt retirements chargeable against ordinary receipts beginning 1918. See p. 262 for expenditures chargeable against ordinary receipts.

² Based on reports of the Post Office Department. Expenditures include adjusted losses, etc., postal funds, and expenditures from postal balances; they exclude departmental expenditures in Washington, D. C., to the close of the fiscal year 1922, and amounts transferred to the civil-service retirement and disability fund, fiscal years 1921 to 1926; in 1927 to 1941 the 3 1/4 percent salary deductions are included.

³ Includes tonnage tax prior to 1932. Beginning 1932, tonnage tax is included in miscellaneous receipts.

⁴ On basis of warrants issued 1789 to 1930; thereafter, on basis of checks issued.

⁵ Average for period Mar. 4, 1789, to Dec. 31, 1800.

⁶ Averages are for entire period though there were no amounts under these items for certain years.

⁷ Years ended Dec. 31, 1801 to 1842; average for 1841-1850 is for the period Jan. 1, 1841, to June 30, 1850.

⁸ Less than $500. ⁹ Average for 1863 to 1865. ¹⁰ Average for 1861 and 1864. ¹¹ One year only, 1866.

¹² After deduction of net appropriations to Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust funds.

¹² On basis of warrants issued from 1789 to 1930; on basis of checks issued 1931 and subsequent years. Includes only Army and Navy pensions for service prior to World War, and fees of examining surgeons in Pension Bureau, and is exclusive of payments made by the War Risk Insurance Bureau and Veterans' Bureau to veterans of the World War, and salaries under Bureau of Pensions, which are included in civil and miscellaneous expenditures.

¹³ On basis of warrants issued prior to 1922. Exclusive of amounts transferred to civil-service retirement and disability fund.

¹⁴ See notes on corresponding periods, p. 261.

¹⁵ See note 8, p. 261. ¹⁶ Excludes interest accounts which are included in trust fund expenditures.

¹⁷ Revised to reflect expenditures under current classifications. ¹⁸ Excess of credits; deduct.

No. 280.—INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS, BY CHIEF TAX SOURCES: 1863 TO 1944

NOTE.—All figures in thousands of dollars. The figures represent collections by internal revenue officers throughout the country, including deposits by postmasters of amounts received from sale of internal revenue stamps and deposits of internal revenue collected through customs officers, and, therefore, differ from those in tables 277 to 279 which represent the deposits of these collections in the Treasury or depositories during the fiscal year concerned, there being thus an overlapping of time. Certain items, included in the totals in the last column, are shown in detail in the second part of the table.

¹⁴ Limited to 5 percent of net income as computed without the benefit of this deduction.

¹⁵ Compiled net loss or deficit.

¹⁶ Interest exempt from declared value excess-profits tax, items 7 and 8 above.

¹⁷ Deduction due to net operating loss carry-over from the two preceding taxable years.

¹⁸ See note 3, table 295. ¹⁹ See notes 4 and 5, table 295.

¹ For items included in "Total compiled receipts" see table 296.

² Gross sales, less returns and allowances, where inventories are an income-determining factor. For "Cost of goods sold," see "Compiled deductions."

³ Where inventories are not an income-determining factor. Figures for years prior to 1932 represent gross profits from operations other than trade and manufacturing. For 1928, such profits for corporations classified under "Transportation and other public utilities," "Service," "Finance," and "Nature of business not given" were included in "Other receipts."

⁴ For 1928-33 consists of wholly tax-exempt interest on obligations of States, Territories, or political subdivisions thereof, or the District of Columbia; securities issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act or such act as amended; and obligations of the United States or its possessions; for 1934 through 1941 includes in addition to the wholly tax-exempt interest, that which is partially tax-exempt, interest on Treasury notes of the National Defense Series and obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, is wholly taxable and is included in "Other receipts" for 1941.

⁵ Included in "Other deductions" prior to 1933.

⁶ Beginning 1936 "Dividends from domestic corporations" are taxable income tabulated with "Other receipts."

⁷ These deductions include contributions or gifts (limited to 5 percent of net income before deduction of contributions or gifts).

⁸ Other than income and excess-profits taxes, and taxes reported under "Cost of goods sold" and "Cost of operations."

⁹ Compiled receipts less compiled deductions.

¹⁰ See note 2, table 291; and note 5, table 361.

¹¹ Deducted by corporations reporting net income.

¹² In addition to income tax, includes: declared value excess-profits tax for 1933 and subsequent years; surtax on undistributed profits, 1936 through 1938, the amount for 1938 being that reported on returns with fiscal year beginning in 1937; for 1940 and 1941, excess-profits tax under provisions of Second Revenue Act of 1940; and also for 1940 and 1941, the defense tax. The defense tax for 1941 is that reported on returns with fiscal years beginning in 1940.

¹³ Deficit.

² Exclusions: For 1938, not exceeding $5,000 for each donee, except with respect to future interest in property; for 1939-41, not exceeding $4,000 for each donee, except with respect to gifts in trust or of future interest in property.

³ Specific exemption of $40,000 may be taken in one year or spread over a period of years at option of donor. The specific exemption allowed each year is $40,000 less the sum of amounts claimed and allowed in prior years.

⁴ Includes defense tax which is 10 percent of current year gift tax liability.

No. 303.—ESTATE TAX RETURNS, FEDERAL—SUMMARY: 1916 TO 1942

[All money figures in thousands of dollars. An estate tax return is required to be filed (1) for the estate of every citizen and resident alien who died (a) in the period Sept. 9, 1916, through 10:24 a. m., Feb. 26, 1926, or in the period 5 p. m., June 6, 1932, through Aug. 30, 1935, the value of whose gross estate exceeds $40,000; (b) in the period 10:25 a. m., Feb. 26, 1926, through 4:59 p. m., June 6, 1932, the value of whose gross estate exceeds $100,000; and (c) on or after Aug. 31, 1935, the value of whose gross estate exceeds $40,000; and (2) for the estate of every nonresident alien, any part of whose estate is situated in the United States at date of death. The estate of an individual who died after 5 p. m., June 6, 1932, is subject to two Federal estate taxes—a basic tax and an additional tax. The basic tax is computed at the rates provided by the Revenue Act of 1926, which rates are embodied in the Internal Revenue Code as the basic estate tax. The additional tax is the excess of the tentative tax computed at the rates provided by the act in force at date of death, over the basic tax.]

¹ Excludes returns for estates of nonresident citizens who died prior to May 11, 1934.

² Includes returns for estates of nonresident citizens who died prior to May 11, 1934.

³ The net taxable estate for individuals who died on or after 5 p. m., June 6, 1932, is the net estate for the purpose of the additional tax under the statute in force at date of death. The tax shown is the total net estate tax liability—the sum of the net basic tax and the net additional tax—and includes, for 1940 and 1941, the defense tax which is 10 percent of the total net estate tax liability.

² Net estate classes are based on the amount of net estate for additional tax plus the specific exemption of $40,000.

³ Federal Government obligations, and State and municipal bonds are classified on the basis of the taxability of the interest thereon for Federal income tax purposes; however, the entire principal amount is taxable for Federal estate tax.

⁴ Specific exemption for estates filed under 1935 and subsequent acts is $40,000; under 1934 and 1932 acts, $50,000; under 1929 act, $100,000; or under 1924 and prior acts, $60,000.

⁵ Excess of gross estate over deductions, exclusive of tabulated specific exemption.

⁶ Net estate after deducting the specific exemption of $100,000, except for returns filed under the 1924 or prior acts for which the specific exemption is $60,000.

⁷ Applies only to estates of individuals who died subsequent to June 6, 1932. The specific exemption for additional tax computation under the 1935 and subsequent acts is $40,000, and under the 1934 and 1932 acts is $50,000.

⁸ Less than $500.

⁹ Credits for (1) estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes paid to States, Territories, or District of Columbia, or (after June 30, 1939) United States possessions, and (2) gift taxes paid to the Federal Government.

* Payments of governments which have funded their debts were made prior to date of funding agreements.

* Includes balances of amounts postponed under provisions of joint resolution of Dec. 23, 1931.

* Differences between principal of funded indebtedness and amounts here stated represent deferred payments provided for in funding agreements, for which "bonds" of respective debtor governments have been or will be delivered to Treasury.

* Increase over amount funded due to exercise of options with respect to payment of interest due on original issue of bonds of debtor governments.

* German Government has been notified that Government of United States will look to German Government for discharge of this indebtedness of Government of Austria to Government of United States.

* Includes additional bonds aggregating $3,489,000 received July 23, 1937, in exchange for bonds aggregating $1,208,000 and annuities aggregating $70,000, payable on Jan. 1, 1938, 1939, and 1940, but postponed as provided by agreements of May 6, 1930, and Sept. 14, 1932.

* United States' hold obligations in principal amount of $220,000, which, together with accrued interest thereon, were canceled on Oct. 6, 1939, pursuant to agreement of Apr. 14, 1938, between United States and Republic of Nicaragua, ratified by U. S. Senate on June 13, 1938.

* Does not include payment of $100,000 by Rumanian Government on June 15, 1940, which was made as "a token of its good faith and of its real desire to reach a new agreement covering" Rumania's indebtedness to United States.

* Represents proceeds of liquidation of financial affairs of Russian Government in this country.

II. State and Local Government Finances and Employment

GENERAL NOTE

Statistics on finances of States and the larger cities presented in this section were secured largely by trained representatives of the Bureau of the Census and by local agents directly from information available in the local offices of the States and the cities, with the assistance and cooperation of public officials. Statistics on finances of other units were obtained from State sources of direct collection and by mail surveys.

In order to obtain maximum uniformity and comparability in reporting data for various units, statistics were examined and classified in accordance with standard classifications employed by the Bureau of the Census in presenting governmental statistics. Consequently, statistics as presented in Bureau of the Census reports sometimes appear in a manner different from that shown in the records of the governmental unit itself. Full definitions of the concept used by the Bureau of the Census in reporting financial information on government and a description of the methods used in presenting the data are given in the source volumes.

Data on employees and pay roll are from the quarterly reports, "Government Employment," formerly "State and Local Government Quarterly Employment Survey." These are based on a mail survey of governments selected to show trends by type of unit and by population-size group. Special studies, such as those on governors' salaries, debt limits, or retirement systems, are prepared either from the financial and other data collected for the annual report or from special surveys.

The Census of Government, formerly known as Wealth, Debt, and Taxation, is conducted decennially for year ending in "2" and is designed to obtain and report the principal financial data concerning all governmental units of every type in the United States. Data from the 1942 Census are shown in this edition of the Abstract. Although some of the smaller governmental units did not report to the Census, State and national totals for the various types of unit were estimated from the relatively large number of units for which data were obtained. In addition to the summary report on Governmental Finances in the United States, separate reports were published on the finances of States, cities having populations over 25,000, counties, cities having populations less than 25,000, townships and New England towns, and school districts.

The term "general government," as used in this section, covers all governmental transactions other than those of public-service enterprises. The data on general government are shown with general funds and with sinking and trust funds presented separately. Taxes collected for trust or sinking funds, however, are reported as general-fund revenues and then as contribution from the general funds to trust or sinking funds. Revenue excludes borrowings; expenditure includes debt service—both interest payments and provision for debt retirement. The data in this section relate to the fiscal years of the respective governmental units unless otherwise specified.

² Incorporated places having more than 2,500 inhabitants.

³ The City and County of San Francisco in California and the City and County of Denver in Colorado are counted as cities and not as counties.

⁵ Counties not organized as local governments.

⁶ The county areas of Armstrong, Shannon, Todd, Washburn, and Washington are unorganized as counties and are attached for administrative purposes to neighboring counties.

Government, Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 1942, pp. 25-31, and (b) as to other data, special compilation by courtesy of Bureau of Accounts, U. S. Treasury Department. Other footnotes specify adjustments in data to conform to Bureau of Census classifications so as to assure uniform and comparable reporting of Federal, State, and local Governments.

² Includes 76 million dollars for 90 percent of total collections of railroad unemployment insurance contributions, which were credited to the R. R. Retirement Board and not reported by U. S. Treasury.

³ Included in "Earnings and miscellaneous."

⁴ Includes veterans' aid.

⁵ Excludes capital outlays in the form of fiscal aid payments and contributions to enterprises.

⁶ Includes 12 million dollars for which a detailed classification is not available.

⁷ Not segregable in detail; included in totals.

⁸ Omits 94 million dollars for debt retirement reported by the U. S. Treasury because the payment is only nominally an expenditure and is not a charge against revenue.

⁹ In addition, local governments are indebted for 482 million dollars of unguaranteed special assessment obligations payable exclusively by benefited property owners.

² Town debts of Mass. and R. I., classified as city debt in previous Census debt reports, are here included in township debt. In consequence, the previously reported debt of cities is changed from $9,986 million to $9,909 million, and the corresponding township debt is changed from $353 million to $433 million.

³ Excludes State debt for reloan to local governments, which duplicate local obligations held by State governments.

⁴ Sinking-fund assets used in preparing this table exclude the rural credit mortgages held by the sinking funds of Minn., N. Dak., and S. Dak.

⁵ City debt changed from $8,842 million; township debt changed from $344 million. See note 2.

¹ Refunds to members withdrawing from systems are excluded. The inclusion of lump-sum or nonrecurring payments makes annual benefit payments more than 12 times monthly benefit payments from which lump-sum payments are excluded. Moreover, annual benefits reflect additions to and withdrawals from old systems, as well as creation of new systems, during year.

² Included with municipalities are 37 school districts and 6 special-purpose districts.

³ Included with counties are 2 school districts.

¹ Under orders of the Secretary of the Treasury of Dec. 28, 1933, and Jan. 11 and 15, 1934, all gold coin domestically owned (with minor exceptions) was required to be delivered to the Treasurer of the United States, and under the Gold Reserve Act of 1934 (Jan. 20) withdrawn from circulation and formed into bars. Gold coin ($287,000,000) shown on Treasury records as then outstanding was dropped from statements.

No. 339.—MONEY—STOCK, BY KIND: 1860 TO 1944

NOTE.—Amounts in thousands of dollars. Figures prior to 1890 were revised in 1925 from the best available data, but the older records, especially from 1860 through the early 70's, are not complete and figures for gold and silver for those years are only estimates. In 1927, data were revised to include minor coins beginning 1900 (no satisfactory data available for earlier years) and gold coin and bullion held abroad for Federal Reserve banks and to exclude gold earmarked for foreign account.

² By a proclamation of the President dated Jan. 31, 1934, the weight of the gold dollar was reduced from 25.8 to 15.5 grains of gold, 0.9 fine. The value of gold is therefore based on $35 per fine ounce beginning June 1934; thereafter, it is based on $20.67 per fine ounce.

³ Includes fractional paper currency in circulation prior to 1878.

⁴ Silver bullion in Treasury.

⁵ Includes silver bullion as follows: As of June 30, 1934, $1,560,000; 1935, $313,309,000; 1936, $708,211,000; 1937, $833,196,000; 1938, $1,037,163,000; 1939, $1,230,586,000; 1940, $1,353,162,000; 1941, $1,435,909,000; 1942, $1,505,844,000; 1943, $1,519,746,000; 1944, $1,520,134,000. As of Dec. 31, 1942, $1,516,187,000; 1943, $1,520,004,000.

No. 340.—MONEY IN CIRCULATION, MONEY HELD IN TREASURY AND IN FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM, AND TOTAL STOCK: 1800 TO 1944

NOTE.—All figures except per capita in thousands of dollars. In conformity with revisions in the form of circulation statement in 1923 and 1927, figures for 1915 on have been compiled to include in the holdings of Federal Reserve banks and agents, and, hence, in stock of money, gold bullion and foreign coin held by them and gold coin and bullion held abroad for the account of Federal Reserve banks, and also to include in the holdings of Federal Reserve banks and agents, and, hence, exclude from circulation, all forms of money held by them whether as Reserve against Federal Reserve notes or otherwise. See also headnote, table 339. Per capita figures based on population estimates of the Treasury Department.

² Both of these items include also reserve against Treasury notes of 1890.

³ See note 1, table 338.

⁴ Includes total stock of silver dollars and subsidiary silver.

⁵ Gold certificates. This amount is not included in the total since the gold held as security against the gold certificates is included in the column, "In trust against gold and silver certificates."

No. 841.—ALL ACTIVE BANKS—PRINCIPAL ASSETS AND LIABILITIES, BY CLASS OF BANKS: 1840 TO 1943

NOTE.—Includes banks in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Philippine Islands (except 1942), and beginning with 1935, those in Virgin Islands and with 1933, those in Canal Zone, Guam (except 1942), and American Samoa. Because of the war, data are excluded for banks in Guam and the Philippine Islands for 1942. Data for banks other than national for the earlier years are not as of June 30 and are incomplete, especially through 1885. Figures for mutual savings banks include some stock savings banks for years prior to 1910 and also a few in several more recent years; since 1928 only one is included. Private banks are not included prior to 1890; statistics for private banks, except for 1934 and 1935, cover only banks under State supervision and those voluntarily reporting; for 1934 and 1935, they include also private banks which submitted reports to the Comptroller of the Currency under provisions of the Banking Act of 1933.

No. 357.—SAVINGS BANKS—NUMBER OF DEPOSITORS AND AMOUNT OF SAVINGS DEPOSITS, CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES: 1820 TO 1910

NOTE.—Data for later years are as of June 30 or about June 30. In earlier years reports were of various dates. Prior to 1900 data include both mutual and stock savings banks; beginning 1900 they are for mutual savings banks only, which in that year had about 90 percent of the savings deposits in all savings banks. For figures for later years and also savings deposits in all classes of banks, see table 358.

² Does not include purchases by brokers and dealers or by other individuals financed by bank loans.

³ New construction of 1- to 4-family nonfarm homes less net acquisition of properties by nonindividuals.

⁴ Purchases minus change in debt.

⁵ Purchases. Based on Department of Commerce data on commodity flow currently being revised. The figures shown above include all new passenger cars sold in the United States.

⁶ Largely attributable to purchases of automobiles and other durable consumers' goods, although including some debt arising from purchases of consumption goods. Other segments of individuals' debt have been allocated to assets to which they pertain, viz, saving in savings and loan associations, insurance, securities, and homes. Changes in commercial indebtedness of unincorporated business and in consumers' indebtedness to unincorporated business are not included in these figures.

² Comprises banks suspended before banking holiday, licensed banks suspended or placed on restricted basis following banking holiday, unlicensed banks placed in liquidation or receivership, and unlicensed banks granted licenses after June 30, 1933. At close of banking holiday (Mar. 15, 1933) 1,400 national banks with deposits (on Dec. 31, 1932) of $1,942,574,000, and 225 State bank members with deposits of $925,777,000 had not been licensed to reopen. On Apr. 12, 1933, the earliest date following the banking holiday for which corresponding data are available regarding nonmember banks, there were in the United States 1,108 unlicensed national banks with deposits of $1,818,541,000, 152 unlicensed State member banks with deposits of $842,962,000, and 2,938 unlicensed nonmember banks with deposits of $1,317,607,000. By the end of June 1933 supervisory authorities had completed their examination of all or nearly all the banks not granted licenses immediately following the banking holiday and had authorized such of the banks to reopen as could qualify for licenses. On June 30, 1933, there remained 985 unlicensed national banks with deposits of $1,028,347,000, 114 State member banks with deposits of $239,268,000, and 1,983 nonmember banks with deposits of $1,063,984,000 to be rehabilitated and reopened or to be placed in liquidation or receivership. All such banks are treated as suspensions.

¹ Negligible proportion of liquidating associations included in years 1922 to 1936.

² Pledged shares estimated and deducted from reported assets.

³ Years 1922 to 1924 estimated at 90 percent of reported assets. Years 1933 to 1943 include accrued receivables consisting principally of interest on mortgage loans.

⁴ Estimated; figures prior to 1936, by projection of sample data with 1 percent of reported assets deducted for office building.

⁵ For years 1922 to 1935 estimated by projection of sample reported by State supervisors; and for 1936 to 1943 estimated from a large sample of monthly reports.

² Includes outstanding loans of associations which have been placed in liquidation.

³ Includes $49,000,000 which cannot be allocated by States.

² Less sold under repurchase agreement.

³ Net amount after deducting impairment or deficit.

⁴ Adjusted for debentures held by banks of issue and by other Federal intermediate credit banks.

⁵ Carried at cost or par, whichever is lower.

⁶ Total is less than sum of figures for individual banks because of interbank transactions.

NO. 406.—BANK CLEARINGS FOR LEADING CITIES: 1926 TO 1943

NOTE.—In millions of dollars. Cities are listed in order of importance according to clearings in 1911. No figures are given for Los Angeles, which ranked eighth in 1929 but has not reported clearings for any subsequent year. Comparability of figures for different years is affected by the tendency toward consolidation of banks, eliminating former clearings between 2 or more banks. Debts to individual account (table 417) are a better measure of volume of payment. For figures for earlier years for all cities reporting to New York Clearing House Association, 1892 to 1920, and for figures for 148 identical cities, 1920 to 1936, see table 293, Statistical Abstract, 1937.

No. 410.—FIRE LOSSES, TOTAL AND PER CAPITA, CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES: 1876 TO 1943

[Amounts, except per capita, in thousands of dollars. Prior to 1916 figures are as compiled by the New York Journal of Commerce and include losses of $10,000 or over in the principal cities of the United States, adding 15 percent for small and unreported losses. These figures are not comparable with those shown for later years (the 1916 Journal of Commerce figure being $214,531,000 as against $258,378,000) which cover all fires reported to the Actuarial Bureau Committee, adding 25 percent for unreported and uninsured losses prior to 1935 and 30 percent thereafter.]

No. 426.—PROFITS AND DIVIDENDS OF INDUSTRIAL CORPORATIONS: 1939 TO 1944

[Data are available only beginning 1939. To a considerable extent, total profits of the 629 corporations represent very large concerns, as no data are included for companies with assets under $250,000, and there is a very limited representation of companies with assets between $250,000 and $5,000,000. No data are included for some important nondurable goods industries, such as meat packing, sugar refining, and rubber. Net profits are before dividends and after all charges, including depreciation, interest, special reserves charged as expenses, and all taxes. Aggregate dollar dividends are reported quarterly by only a few companies and for most of the companies for which these data are shown, dividends were computed for each class of stock on the basis of dividends per share and number of shares outstanding. For net profits of all corporations as compiled from income-tax returns, see tables 296 and 297, pages 288 and 296.]

No. 428.—CAPITAL ISSUES—SUMMARY, BY CLASSES: 1923 TO 1943

NOTE.—In millions and tenths of millions of dollars. Data cover domestic and foreign issues in the United States. Preferred stocks of no par value and all common stocks are taken at their offering price, other issues at par, except that in the figures for corporate issues for 1917 and 1918 all stocks are included at their market value. Corporate issues for 1917 and 1918 exclude real estate offerings and privileged stock subscriptions included in figures beginning 1919, and issues of less than $100,000. State and municipal issues include bonds issued by States, Territories, and possessions, counties and municipalities, and by school and road districts and other independent governmental bodies.

No. 431.—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL FAILURES—NUMBER AND LIABILITIES: 1857 TO 1944

[Series revised beginning 1933 to exclude real estate and financial companies. These revisions bring the failure record more nearly in accordance with the type of concerns covered by "Total number of concerns in business," in which no changes were made. Beginning 1939, the new series includes voluntary discontinuances with loss to creditors and small concerns forced out of business with insufficient assets to cover all claims, in addition to failures included in former series]

No. 432.—INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL FAILURES—NUMBER AND LIABILITIES, BY MONTHS: 1939 TO 1944

[Liabilities in thousands of dollars. Current liabilities include all accounts and notes payable and all obligations, whether in secured form or not, known to be held by banks, officers, affiliated companies, supplying companies, or the Government. Deferred liabilities (the difference between current, as defined above, and the total) are therefore long-term obligations held by the public]

No. 436.—NET DEBT IN THE UNITED STATES: 1916 TO 1943

[Net public and private debt outstanding is a comprehensive estimate of the indebtedness of borrowers after the elimination of duplicating corporate and government debt. To obtain the net debt figures, gross or total debt estimates are corrected for corporate and government duplications within the following sectors of the economy: (1) the Federal Government and its corporations and agencies, (2) the combined State and local governments, (3) the corporate system, consisting of individual corporations and of related but legally separate corporations operating under a single management and treated as a unit, and (4) separate unincorporated business establishments and individual persons. In the sphere of public debt two types of adjustments are made. Public debt is reduced to a net basis by consolidating the accounts of the Federal Government with those of its corporations and agencies and by eliminating the indebtedness of Federal, State and local governments held by the issuing governmental units. In other words, the debts issued by the governmental units but held in trust, investment, or sinking funds are eliminated within the Federal and the State and local categories in order to reach the net debt estimates. Also, in order that public and private debt may be additive, loans receivable from the public by Federal Government agencies are offset against the public debt, since these loans are duplicated in private indebtedness. In the sphere of corporate indebtedness, obligations held by the issuer and debts of corporations to other corporate members of the same affiliated system are eliminated. In the noncorporate and individual sphere, figures are gross throughout with no adjustments. However, debts of banks to depositors, of life insurance companies to policy-holders, and of individuals directly to one another are excluded from the original gross debt concept. The net debt figures give a more significant picture of trends in the debt structure than the crude gross debt estimates, since the effects of changing financial organization are in large part removed. With the exception of State and local governments, where figures are for June 30 of each year, estimates represent balances of debts outstanding at the end of calendar years, corrections having been made wherever fiscal and calendar years differ.]

No. 440.—NATIONAL INCOME BY INDUSTRIAL DIVISIONS: 1929 TO 1943

[Data on dividends, interest, and corporate savings by industrial divisions for 1934 and subsequent years are based on a different industrial classification than are the estimates of these items for earlier years because of a change in the Revenue Act of 1934. Special tabulations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue permitted the making of estimates for 1934 on the earlier basis. For specific items in certain industries the variations are substantial, but for total income the changes were small.]

No. 441.—INCOME PAYMENTS TO INDIVIDUALS, BY STATES: 1929 TO 1943

[Income payments to individuals comprise (1) salaries and wages after deduction of employees' contributions to social insurance funds, (2) net income of proprietors, including farmers, before owner's withdrawals, (3) dividends, interest, and net rents and royalties received by individuals, and (4) "other" income payments, which include direct relief; labor income items such as pensions, compensation for injuries, and social insurance benefits; and, in 1942 and 1943, allowances and allotments paid to dependents of military personnel (allocated to State of dependents' residence). Income payments are distributed among the States on a where-received basis; only payments made in the continental United States are included. Income payments differ from national income (tables 439 and 440) principally by the inclusion in national income but not in income payments of retained earnings of corporations and contributions by both employers and employees under social insurance legislation. In addition, income payments include transfer payments by government, such as direct relief, retirement payments, social insurance benefits, and the Government's contribution to allowances paid to servicemen's dependents. These are excluded from national income because they do not represent current returns for labor or capital services.]

No. 442.—GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT OR EXPENDITURE: 1939 TO 1944

[Gross national product represents the total value of currently produced goods and services flowing to Government, to consumers, and for purposes of gross capital formation to business. It differs from the national income by including business taxes, charges to depreciation, and certain other business reserves. These are elements of the value of total production, but do not constitute income accruing to individuals]

¹ Money contributions to religious organizations, welfare agencies, war relief, and other institutions and funds, or to private individuals not members of the family; and amounts spent for gifts to friends and relatives outside the family.

² Federal and State individual income taxes, poll taxes, and personal property taxes. Sales taxes, excise taxes, and taxes on automobiles and real estate are included under expenditures for goods and services.

³ Less than $0.50.

⁴ Net change in family assets and liabilities during the year, exclusive of gains or losses from revaluation of assets. These net figures are not exactly equal to the difference between money expenditures and money income plus money inheritances and large gifts because of minor discrepancies in figures furnished by families.

⁵ Includes the value of home-produced food, the net value of occupancy of owned nonfarm homes and of owned and rented farm homes, the value of fuel and ice gathered by families, and the value of food, housing, fuel, furnishings, and clothing received as gift, pay, or relief.

No. 445.—DISTRIBUTION OF FAMILIES AND SINGLE CONSUMERS BY MONEY INCOME LEVEL: 1942

Estimates cover all civilian consumers except those living in institutions. Families are defined as domestic units of two or more persons sharing a common or pooled income and living under a common roof. Single consumers are defined as men or women maintaining independent living quarters or living as lodgers or servants in private homes, rooming houses, or hotels. The term spending unit is used to cover both groups. Civilian money income includes net money income of all civilians except those living in institutions. It therefore excludes all imputed (nonmoney) items, and all income paid to members of the armed forces. Estimates are on a calendar year basis.

¹ The estimated population used for all spending units was 129,100,000, of which 121,250,000 were in family units and 7,850,000 were single consumers.

² Personal taxes shown here include only individual income taxes, poll taxes, and certain minor personal property taxes. It should be noted that sales taxes, excise taxes, and all indirect taxes on consumption are included under expenditures for goods and services.

³ Savings are defined as the net change in assets and liabilities of the spending unit during the year, exclusive of gains or losses from revaluation of assets.

⁴ Gifts consist only of money contributions to the church, the Red Cross, and other institutions and funds.

⁵ Consumption consists of money expenditures only.

NO. 447.—WAGE OR SALARY WORKERS (EXCEPT THOSE ON PUBLIC EMERGENCY WORK) IN MARCH 1940, BY WAGE OR SALARY INCOME AND RECEIPT OF OTHER INCOME IN 1939, BY COLOR AND SEX

[Wage or salary income includes all money received in 1939 in compensation for work or services performed as employees, including commissions, tips, piece-rate payments, bonuses, etc., as well as receipts commonly referred to as wages or salaries. The value of income in kind, such as living quarters, meals, clothing, etc., is not included. Persons were classified as with or without other income on the basis of their answers to an inquiry as to whether $50 or more of income was received from sources other than money wages or salaries in 1939. Statistics include persons who were employed as wage or salary workers (except on public emergency work) during the census week, and persons seeking work who were last employed as wage or salary workers. Statistics are based on sample B, see p. 1. Percent not shown where less than 0.1.]

No. 450.—FAMILIES BY FAMILY WAGE OR SALARY INCOME AND RECEIPT OF OTHER INCOME IN 1939, BY URBAN AND RURAL AREAS

[Statistics are based on Sample F, see p. 1. For definitions of wage or salary income and other income, see table 447. Family wage or salary income was obtained by combining the wages and salaries reported by all persons 14 years old and over in the family. Families were classified as "without other income" if all members 14 years old and over reported that they had received no other income.]

14. Prices

GENERAL NOTE

The indexes issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics have been, since the beginning of the century, the major source of price statistics in summarized form. This agency prepares a comprehensive weekly and monthly index of wholesale prices, a daily index based on spot market prices of 28 basic commodities; an index of prices of waste and scrap materials; indexes of the cost of food at retail in 56 large cities; and indexes of the cost of goods purchased by wage earners and lower-salaried workers in 34 large cities, 20 small cities, and 12 war-activity centers. In addition during the war period the Bureau has prepared a number of special purpose price indexes for the use of the war agencies.

The wholesale-price index is based on primary market quotations of 889 commodities. Prior to January 1941, fewer commodities were covered. In computing the index the price of each article is weighted by the approximate quantity marketed during a period approximating that covered by the index. Beginning with 1921, in computing indexes for commodity groups, articles falling under more than one of the classifications were included under each classification. For example, articles produced on the farm which reach the consumer practically unchanged in form, such as potatoes, milk, and eggs, were included among both farm products and foods. However, in computing the index for all commodities such articles were counted only once.

The retail-food-cost indexes presented in this section for periods from January 1935 to March 1943 are based on the distribution of expenditures as shown by the 1934-36 study made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of expenditures of wage earners' and lower-salaried workers' families. In March 1943, the weights for this index were again revised to take account of changes in food purchases due to wartime shortages and rationing. The indexes are computed from prices of 54 foods for the period from January 1935 to March 1943, and from 61 thereafter. Aggregate costs of these foods in each of 56 cities (51 cities prior to March 1943), weighted to represent total purchases, have been combined for the United States with the use of population weights. Indexes for all periods prior to January 1935 are converted from indexes computed for corresponding periods on the 1923-25 base.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics prepares currently indexes of prices received for farm products and of prices paid by farmers. (In addition to table 453 in this section, see tables 708 and 709.) The index of prices received for farm products included in this section is a revised series replacing the earlier series which has been in use for the past decade. Data cover prices paid to producers for 45 major farm products. Quantity weights applied to the individual commodities have been adjusted to marketings of the most recent prewar years, 1935-39. For other significant changes in the revised index, see source.

In comparing the movement of the indexes of the cost of goods purchased by wage earners and clerical workers in large cities and of the prices paid by farmers for commodities bought for family living (table 709), it should be noted that the city index includes rents and other services and the farm index does not, and that the list of commodities included in the two indexes and their geographic coverage differs because farm family buying differs considerably from that of city families, and farm and city workers are located in different parts of the country.

A number of privately compiled indexes of wholesale and retail prices provide some groupings not found in the official indexes. For example, the National Industrial Conference Board prepares current indexes for both a prewar and a wartime budget (table 462). Special purpose indexes have not been included in this section.

The user of price indexes is reminded that the margin of error in price statistics due to unrecorded changes in quality, in discounts, and in undercover charges is greater in war than in peacetime.

[Figures in boxes indicate number of quotations. Indexes of the National Bureau of Economic Research are weighted arithmetic means for 890 price series, the weights being based upon the average value of production in 1927 and 1931. For method of computing the Department of Labor index, see general note, p. 415. For Department of Labor publications in which data appear, see source note, table 456.]

¹ Formerly "Finished products." ² Perishable and semidurable. ³ Effective January 1941. In earlier years a smaller number of commodities was included. ⁴ The sum of the number of quotations for producers' and consumers' goods and for durable and nondurable goods is greater than the number of all commodities owing to duplication of certain price series in the classifications. For example, identical price quotations on flour are used in both producers' goods and consumers' goods. ⁵ June 1943. Index discontinued after this date.

No. 458.—INDEXES OF SPOT MARKET PRICES OF 28 BASIC COMMODITIES AND OF WASTE AND SCRAP MATERIALS: 1939 TO 1944

[August 1939=100. The index of 28 basic commodities is calculated daily and is available since August 1939. Most of the 28 commodities used in the daily index are basic raw materials and many of them are quoted on organized exchanges or "future" markets. This index is, therefore, much more sensitive to changes in market conditions than is the monthly wholesale price index. The index is calculated as an unweighted geometric average of the daily price quotations. The index numbers of waste and scrap materials are calculated weekly and are available since January 1939. The quotations for the 44 commodities in the waste and scrap index are those published in standard trade journals. The index is calculated as an unweighted geometric average of the weekly price quotations.]

NO. 460.—COST OF GOODS PURCHASED BY WAGE EARNERS AND LOWER-SALARIED WORKERS IN 34 LARGE CITIES COMBINED—INDEXES: 1913 TO 1944

[1935-1939=100. The indexes presented below indicate average changes in retail prices of selected goods, rents, and services bought by families of wage earners and lower-salaried workers in large cities. Figures other than food were prepared from findings in 34 cities since Sept. 15, 1940, and a smaller number in earlier years; figures for food represent 56 cities since March 1943 and a smaller number in earlier years.

The list of items priced for the indexes includes 183 goods and services. For many goods a number of different grades and qualities are priced so that as of the fall of 1944, 340 different articles or qualities of articles were included in the index. Sales taxes are included wherever applicable, but income taxes, social security deductions, and bond deductions are not included. The weights used from 1913 to 1924 are based on a study of the family expenditures of this group in 1917-19. From 1924 to 1935 the weights of the individual goods and services priced are based on the 1917-19 study, and the group indexes are based on the estimated distribution of family expenditures in the period. From 1935 on the weights are based on a study of family expenditures in 1934-36. The items covered since 1935 represent 70 percent of the expenditures of families with incomes ranging from $1,250 to $2,000 in 1934-36.

As of March 1943 changes were made in the weights for the food cost indexes to take account of wartime food shortages and rationing. As certain goods have disappeared from retail stores in various cities covered, because of wartime shortages of materials, they have been deleted from the index for the given city without allowing the index to decline on that account. An effort was made to obtain prices of goods of comparable quality from one pricing period to the next. When goods of the quality usually priced disappear from the market and it is possible to purchase only a higher quality, the resulting increase in cost to the consumer is reflected in the index. The indexes do not show, however, the full wartime effect of such factors as lowered quality and the disappearance of low-priced goods. The indexes do not cover changes in housing and eating away from home.

The annual average indexes for items other than food from 1914 through 1940 are estimates based on indexes compiled as of particular dates at irregular intervals shown in previous issues of this publication. They represent weighted averages of indexes for each pricing period related to the year. For example, when goods other than food were priced only in June and December, the index for December of the previous year was taken account of in computing the average for the given year. Since October 1940 this index has been published monthly, based on prices of a shorter list of goods and services from 21 cities in the intra-quarterly months, corrected in March, June, September, and December to take account of trends for the entire list of 183 goods and services in the 34 cities. The annual average index of food costs is based on monthly indexes over the entire period.]

No. 462.—COST OF LIVING OF WAGE EARNERS AND LOWER-SALARIED CLERICAL WORKERS IN 59 CITIES—INDEXES: 1939 TO 1943

January 1939=100. Data cover the prices of important commodities and services entering into family living expense, i. e., food, housing, clothing, fuel, light, housefurnishings, medical fees, automobile purchase and operation, carfare, etc. The wartime budget differs from the regular in every category except housing. The wartime indexes provide for the realignment of purchasing habits extending back to January 1942 and embrace all components of the indexes affected by rationing and shortages for which effects could be measured and for which reasonable allowances could be made.]

NO. 467.—UNIT VALUES, ANNUAL AVERAGE, OF IMPORTANT ARTICLES IMPORTED: 1912 TO 1942

NOTE.—The values are required by law to represent the values of the goods in the foreign markets whence exported to the United States. "Ton" signifies long ton of 2,240 pounds. The averages are obtained by dividing the total value of imports of the specified article by the total quantity, and as in some commodities there may be considerable variations in price between different grades, methods of packing, etc., and as the proportions of the grades, etc., may vary from year to year, the averages in such cases may show the actual price movements only roughly. Data for 1942 are the latest available for publication.

15. Communication Systems

(Including postal service)

[This section covers public telephone systems and land (wire) commercial telegraph systems operated in continental United States and commercial cable and radiotelegraph systems operated by companies incorporated in United States. Also included are radio broadcasting systems operated by American-controlled interests in continental United States and outlying possessions.]

¹ Includes 10,550 connecting lines for which separate reports were not secured; data for such lines, however, were included in reports of operating companies supplying switchboard service.

² Includes data for connecting lines having fewer than 5 telephones per line, as follows: 11,759 lines; 29,000 telephones; and estimated figures for other items as follows: 44,000 miles of single wire; and $1,600,000 investment in equipment.

³ Not reported for systems and lines having less than $5,000 annual income in 1912. For 1917 and 1922, figures represent number of systems and lines reporting central offices; actual number of central offices was probably slightly larger.

⁴ Not reported except for systems and lines with income of $5,000 or more.

⁵ Including assessments of mutual companies, and miscellaneous operating revenues.

⁶ 53,378,000 miles of wire in cable and 6,193,000 not in cable.

⁷ No data.

⁸ No comparable data available.

No. 473.—TELEPHONE SYSTEMS—SUMMARY, CLASS A CARRIERS: 1926 TO 1943

[Figures cover Class A telephone carriers which reported for 1943. Class A carriers are those carriers whose average annual operating revenues exceeded $100,000. The gross operating revenues of Class A carriers (excluding intercompany duplications of the Bell System) reporting in 1937 represented approximately 94 percent of the revenues of all telephone carriers as reported for the Census of Electrical Industries for that year. (See table 468.) The figures include data for carriers consolidated and merged prior to 1943, so far as annual data are available. Intercompany duplications have not been excluded, but data for 1942 and 1943 excluding such duplications are shown in italics below.]

² The decrease reflected in data shown for the year 1933 is due mainly to the fact that prior to that year the total of wire jointly owned with other companies was included, whereas from 1933 on, only the respondents' portion of jointly owned wire was included.

³ Data for 1926 through 1932 include estimates.

⁴ In comparing figures in this table, consideration should be given to the minor effect of the revisions of the Uniform System of Accounts, effective Jan. 1, 1933, and Jan. 1, 1937, resulting in certain changes in and rearrangements of both the balance sheet and the income statement.

⁵ Excluding intercompany duplications.

⁶ Represents, except for a minor part, number of employees at end of October.

¹ Excluding rural free delivery routes, ocean mail routes, and air mail routes to foreign countries.² Audited postal surplus or deficit which is greater or less than excess of receipts or expenditures by the amount of adjusted losses and contingencies.³ International includes foreign countries on domestic basis. For explanation, see headnote, table 482.⁴ Data are for continental United States and are estimates except in 1923 and beginning with 1926, when figures are accurate calculations. No estimates made from 1914 to 1922, inclusive.⁵ Postage stamps first issued under act of Mar. 3, 1847, and placed on sale at New York July 1, 1847.⁶ From Nov. 1, 1864, when money-order system first went into operation, to June 30, 1865.⁷ From Sept. 1, 1869, to June 30, 1870. International money orders first issued under convention of Oct. 12, 1867.⁸ Gross revenues of department for 1918 and 1919 include $44,500,000 and $71,292,000, respectively, war-tax revenue accruing from increased postage.

NO. 482.—POSTAL MONEY-ORDER BUSINESS—SUMMARY: YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 1920 TO 1943

NOTE.—For revenues from money orders, see table 481. For value of orders issued for other years, see table 480. Money orders are exchanged on a domestic basis not only within this country, but with its outlying possessions, Canada, Cuba, and numerous islands and minor countries neighboring the United States. International-basis orders are exchanged between the United States and its outlying possessions, on the one hand, and other than "domestic basis" foreign countries, on the other. In this table, however, "international" includes money orders exchanged between the United States and "domestic basis" foreign countries, and these are not included in "Domestic."

No. 484.—TRANSPORTATION OF DOMESTIC MAILS, BY CLASS OF SERVICE: 1925 TO 1943

NOTE.—Since Nov. 1, 1916, all service on steam railroads is authorized and paid for under the space basis system; formerly, payments were based on a system of quadrennial weightings. Railway mail space units of service vary in size and character and may consist of a car, a section of a car, or a closed pouch carried on a car. Some cars are railway post offices, others are for storage only, about 20 classes of units being distinguished. The "equated unit" represents a calculation of the equivalent of all the different units in terms of a 60-foot car. Annual rate of expenditure (regular authorizations) represents estimated cost for transporting normal mail traffic over regular routes only, based on contracts outstanding at the end of each fiscal year. "Annual cost" includes emergency and side and transfer service. Average rates are based on "regular authorizations."

No. 488.—ENERGY FROM MINERAL FUELS AND WATER POWER—ANNUAL SUPPLY, BY SOURCE: 1871 TO 1943

NOTE.—The figures, except coal equivalent, represent the equivalent of the heating power of the classes of fuel in trillions of British thermal units. Data represent production, except those for oil imports, and take no account of exports, imports, or changes in stocks.

¹ Fuel equivalent is calculated from kilowatt-hours of power produced wherever available, as is true of all public-utility plants since 1919. Otherwise fuel equivalent is calculated from reported horsepower of installed water wheels. Prior to 1890 data were unsatisfactory, but estimates are included in total.

² Calculated at 26,200,000 British thermal units per ton.

³ Based on amount of coal displaced by gas, as estimated by gas companies.

⁴ Figures not available for publication.

⁵ Excludes data for imports of crude petroleum.

No. 490.—ELECTRIC ENERGY—PRODUCTION, BY TYPE OF PRIME MOVER: 1920 TO 1943

NOTE.—In thousands of kilowatt-hours. Figures for 1943 in this table and those in table 490 and in tables 491 to 495 are based on the operation of 4,126 power plants, owned by 1,736 concerns, generating electric energy for sale. The production and capacity of the following types of plants are included: Privately owned electric utilities, mining and manufacturing (exclusive of plants of those concerns whose sales were less than 10,000 kilowatt hours per month), railways and railroads, municipal electric utilities, Bureau of Reclamation, other Federal projects, cooperatives, power districts, State projects, and publicly owned noncentral stations.

No. 497.—ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER INDUSTRY—SUMMARY: 1902 TO 1937

NOTE.—Figures cover all establishments engaged either in the generation and distribution of electric energy, or the distribution or transmission of electric energy, to public or private consumers. Statistics do not include establishments which consume all current generated, such as manufacturing and mining companies, railroads, railways, hotels, and other enterprises not in the nature of public utilities, unless a portion of their generated output is sold commercially. Plants operated by the Federal Government or by States were not included unless energy was sold commercially.

¹ The term "establishment" as here used may represent a single electric station (either generating or distributing or both) or a number of such stations operated under the same ownership. ² Not available.

³ Comprises 1,112 stations operated by steam; 1,283 by internal-combustion; 1,426 by water; and 206 composite (stations having more than 1 type of prime mover).

⁴ Comprises generated output and energy purchased and received from other sources. Since the energy "Received from other sources" was, in a large part, purchased from other electric light and power companies, a considerable duplication is involved, as such energy would also be included in the "Generated."

⁵ Includes "Estimated value of free service."

⁶ Number on June 30.

⁷ Reported by commercial establishments only. No data for municipal establishments.

⁸ Not comparable with figures for other years since amount includes only salaries and wages chargeable to electric operating service.

⁹ Includes value of plant and equipment, $902,000,000, owned by companies engaged in the operation of electric light and power plants and other public utilities, not distributed among the several utilities.

¹⁰ In addition, hogged fuel, sawmill, and other waste were reported.

NOTE.—Figures for energy generated were obtained by the Edison Electric Institute from the Federal Power Commission. Figures for sales, revenue, and customers for 1930 and 1935 are not strictly comparable with those for 1940 and subsequent years due to a change in classification of sales.

No. 501.—WATER POWER, DEVELOPED AND POTENTIAL: 1921 TO 1941

NOTE.—In thousands of horsepower. Data for developed water power cover capacity of actual installation of water wheels and turbines in plants of 100 horsepower or more. Potential power figures are 1936 revised estimates showing the 24-hour horsepower available 90 percent of the time and 50 percent of the time at an over-all efficiency of 70 percent at all developed and undeveloped sites. Data for potential power are not directly comparable with those for developed power, because developed power is usually given in terms of the capacity of installed water wheels or turbines, which may be several times the potential power available 90 percent of the time. Probably with complete development of the water-power resources of the whole country the installed capacity would amount to 80,000,000 horsepower or more.

No. 502.—RURAL ROADS—MILEAGE, FUNDS AVAILABLE, AND DISBURSEMENTS, 1921 TO 1942, AND CONSTRUCTION UNDER FEDERAL AID, 1930 TO 1942

NOTE.—Figures cover continental United States, except as noted, and refer to calendar years for most States. Mileage data included for 1921 and 1926 were obtained from county records; figures for 1929 and 1930 include some estimates. Rural roads include roads outside of incorporated areas and certain of the more populous unincorporated areas. No data available for county and township roads after 1930, except for those under State control.

² Includes 11,303 miles of unclassified roads. ³ Includes mileage partially graded and drained.

⁴ Includes original and reconstructed surfacing. ⁵ Includes 368 miles of unclassified roads.

⁶ Excludes funds transferred. ⁷ Excludes balance on hand at beginning of year; not reported in 1921.

⁸ For road and bridge purposes under supervision of State highway department only.

⁹ Includes an undetermined amount of municipal street mileage on State highway systems or connecting these systems. Beginning with 1935 such mileage is included, however, for only a few States. Figures prior to 1935 also include mileage of secondary road systems under State control for a number of States. ¹⁰ Primary systems only. See also note 9.

¹¹ Includes funds transferred to or from local units. Data for D. C. not included prior to 1940.

¹² Not comparable with figures for prior years. Last 2 sentences of headnote, table 504, apply to these figures. For 1943 figures for funds available and disbursements, see tables 504 and 505.

¹³ Includes data for Hawaii and beginning 1937 for Puerto Rico.

² Mileages shown are in addition to those forming a part of State highway systems or included with county and local road mileages reported.

³ Total includes 58,816 miles, not classified by type, for the following States: Calif., 24; Minn., 57,653; S. Dak., 1,139.

⁴ Includes 3,140 miles of State Park, Forest, and Reservation roads.

No. 504.—DISBURSEMENTS OF STATE-HIGHWAY FUNDS, BY STATES: 1921 to 1943

NOTE.—Figures include disbursements, whether from current revenues or the proceeds of loans, for construction, maintenance, interest and principal payments on highway bonds, transfers to local units, and miscellaneous disbursements. Data beginning 1934 cover calendar years, while figures for earlier years for many States represent fiscal years. Beginning with 1940, figures are not comparable with those for prior years as they include data for certain State income applicable to highways, namely, proceeds of highway-user imposts allotted, without passing through the State highway departments, by the State treasurer, for (1) county and other local roads and streets and for (2) nonhighway purposes. These data were not included in prior years.

No. 510.—MOTOR TRUCK TRAILERS—PRODUCTION: 1939 TO 1944

[Data cover production of trailers for military and civilian use. Military trailers include those procured by Army, Navy, etc., for military purposes; civilian trailers include those produced under W. P. B. Limitation Orders and those procured by nonmilitary agencies for civilian use. For 1942-44, full and semitrailers, conventional or frameless chassis for such conventional full and semitrailers, and pole, logging and pipe trailers are included; "suspensions" for frameless trailer units are excluded. For 1939-41, data cover exclusively the highway civilian-type truck trailers not including those with a rated tonnage capacity under 5 tons.]

(No. 511.—MOTOR-VEHICLE REGISTRATIONS (COMBINED FIGURES FOR PASSENGER CARS AND MOTOR TRUCKS), BY STATES: 1915 TO 1944

Registration periods ending not earlier than Nov. 30 and not later than Jan. 31 are considered as calendar-year periods. Net numbers, excluding reregistrations and nonresident registrations, are given, so far as possible. Totals in this table do not include, in most cases, those official cars which are exempt (or partially exempt) from paying regular registration fees to the States. Registrations for trailers are included in figures for some States. Tractor trucks and tractors for highway use are included beginning with 1925.]

No. 516.—MOTOR-VEHICLE ACCIDENT FATALITIES BY PLACE OF ACCIDENT, PLACE OF DEATH, AND PLACE OF RESIDENCE, BY STATES: 1943

[Data tabulated from special transcripts supplied by State vital statistics offices and State traffic authorities under a cooperative reporting program begun in 1941. The reporting area in 1943 included 42 States, the District of Columbia, and New York City. The area included about 82 percent of the population of the United States, and the reported fatalities represented about 80 percent of total motor-vehicle accident fatalities in the United States in 1943]

18. Transportation, Air and Land—Steam and Electric Railways, Express Companies, Motor Busses, and Civil Aeronautics

[Data in this section relate to continental United States unless otherwise stated]

GENERAL NOTE.—The term "steam railways" as used in this section includes electrified divisions operated by such carriers. The total steam railroad mileage of the United States comprises: (a) Regular interstate carriers (and their nonoperating subsidiaries) reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission; (b) switching and terminal railroads, also reporting to the Commission; and (c) private railroads (defined by the Commission as "circular" because they report on brief circulars and as "unofficial"). Except in certain mileage data the circular and unofficial companies are not included in any of the statistics. The switching and terminal roads were formerly included with operating railways, but are now separated, and data for them do not appear in most of the tables.

Nonoperating subsidiaries include proprietary companies, which are covered by the reports of operating carriers, and lessor companies which have no traffic and whose reports appear only in statistics of capitalization, dividends, and investment.

Operating railways are divided into three classes, according to the amount of their annual operating revenues, class I, having more than $1,000,000 of such revenue; class II, from $100,000 to $1,000,000; and class III, less than $100,000. During recent years more detailed reports are required from class I carriers than from smaller companies. The basis of the figures in each table is indicated by notes. Omission of class II and class III railroads affects very little the comparability of statistics with those of earlier years in regards most items, since the bulk of the business is done by class I.

The Interstate Commerce Commission divides railroads geographically into three districts and eight subsidiary regions. Each railroad is treated as a unit and placed wholly in some one district or region. Broadly speaking, the eastern district includes territory east of Chicago and north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers; southern district, territory east of the Mississippi River and south of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers; and western district, the remainder of the country.

Class I companies make monthly reports from which data are compiled currently and published in a series of monthly statements. The yearly totals from these reports become available earlier than the sometimes slightly corrected totals from the final annual reports. The latest figures in these tables are in many cases from the monthly reports.

No. 521.—STEAM RAILWAYS—MILEAGE OWNED AND MILEAGE OPERATED: 1890 TO 1943

NOTE.—Beginning with 1908 switching and terminal roads are omitted (they operate about 2,300 miles of main tracks). The first and second columns cover all railways, including "circular" and "unofficial" lines; the last 5 columns omit "circular" and "unofficial" lines. Mileage owned excludes all duplication and covers continental United States only. Mileage operated includes some duplication under trackage rights and some mileage in Canada operated by United States companies.

No. 525.—STEAM RAILWAYS (ALL REPORTING COMPANIES)—EQUIPMENT IN SERVICE: 1926 TO 1943

NOTE.—“All reporting companies” include switching and terminal but not circular and unofficial lines. Data for tractive effort and capacity of cars exclude switching roads, also smaller roads during recent years; they would not be materially different if all carriers were included. The large number of cars owned by private car lines is not included.

² Calculated for all classes of employees, including those not paid on an hourly basis.

³ Data cover Federal reports, reports of companies not under Federal control, and corporate reports.

No. 531.—STEAM RAILWAYS—STOCK OUTSTANDING, DIVIDENDS, AND INTEREST: 1891 TO 1943

NOTE.—Data relate to years ending June 30 prior to 1916 and to calendar years thereafter. Nonoperating as well as operating roads are included. Switching and terminal roads are excluded beginning with 1908. Dividend figures throughout cover all classes of roads, but interest figure for 1913 excludes the unimportant class III roads. The amount of stock shown in the first column is exclusive of stock held by the issuing company, but includes that held by other railway companies.
